

BUSINESS GAIN IN SOUTHEAST REPORTED HERE

Bradstreet Superintendents Bring Enthusiastic Reports From Many States to Conference.

MIAMI, FLA., FAILS TO KEEP UP PACE

Reaction From Speculative Realty Market Expected To Be Followed By Brighter Prospects.

Enthusiastic reports of steadily improving business conditions in nearly all the states of the southeast were made Wednesday at a conference of state superintendents of the Bradstreet company with District Superintendent J. E. C. Pedder held in the Bradstreet offices here. With a few exceptions the reports from the state agents showed that building is active, business conditions good with prospects of improvement and general commercial conditions sound.

Georgia is enjoying a period of unusual building activity according to the reports filed by the Bradstreet local agents in this state. Reports from Augusta and Albany in Georgia were particularly good, while excellent reports also were made by Chattanooga, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., in adjoining states.

The only reports failing to show great improvement in conditions came from Miami, Fla., and from some sections where the crops have been retarded by dry weather. In the Miami report it was stated that reaction from the speculative realty market had slowed things up in that city, but it was declared that the period of readjustment is being finished and that brighter prospects are ahead.

All Sections Report Activity. H. H. Granger, assistant superintendent of the Bradstreet company, said all sections of the southeast had reported steady business activity with the exception of the Miami district.

Miami has been suffering from results of the real estate speculative period, but conditions there are rapidly being stabilized and some bright prospects are being reported. "Both Tampa and Jacksonville are in good reports," J. A. Jacksonville it was reported that there are more buildings in course of construction than ever before in the history of the city and that Duval county had just voted $8,000,000 for roads and bridges.

Greenville, S. C., reported that conditions are basically sound and that cotton mills of the east are moving their machinery to the Greenville section and are erecting new mills. In a report from Chattanooga it was stated that two new hotels are under construction and that the diversified manufacturing plants of Chattanooga are selling their products in all parts of the world.

Three new hotels are being erected in Birmingham, a new cement plant is under construction and general conditions are improving in that city, it was reported.

Development in Albany. Albany reported activity in the Skywater Park development, much construction of apartments and residences and an increase in railroad yards as a result of the consolidation of short line railroads.

Macon reported that merchants are hopeful of a good fall trade, although hopes have been retarded somewhat by weather conditions. Savannah reported considerable building activity while Charleston, S. C., sent in a report of steady growth in population as shown in the government census estimate.

Mobile, Ala., reported the completion of a $10,000,000 dock improvement project. Montgomery, Ala., reported reasonably fair prospects for business in the fall.

Among the agents attending the conference were: W. W. Dunkin, Miami; C. W. Wager, Albany; T. W. Perrin, Augusta; F. W. Reneker, Birmingham; J. J. Conroy, Chattanooga; John L. Wray, Chattanooga; John A. Singleton, Greenville; George A. Follis, Jacksonville; H. F. Martin, Macon; J. B. Porterfield, Mobile; J. S. McRee, Montgomery; A. J. Merkle, Savannah, and D. G. Maxwell, Tampa.

Wrangling Bitter In Both Houses Over Prohibition Order

MERCURY RECEDES HERE, BUT SOARS IN OTHER CITIES

Though Atlanta Temperature Is Lower Than Tuesday, Many Cities Report High Readings.

AUGUSTA AT TOP WITH 100 DEGREES

"Fair and Hot," Is Forecast for Today; No Chance Seen for Early Rains.

While the thermometer in Atlanta Tuesday showed a one-degree decline from the high mark of the preceding day, summer sent its first withering blasts into Georgia and the south generally, ringing up unusually high temperatures for this time of the year.

The maximum temperature as reported by the United States weather bureau was 91 degrees. In Augusta, the 100-degree mark was reached; Savannah's maximum was 98, and in Macon and Columbus high readings of 97.1 and 95 degrees, respectively, were reported.

Montgomery and Raleigh sweltered under 94-degree weather, and Birmingham, Charleston, Jacksonville and Vicksburg saw mercury readings of 92 degrees. Many cities throughout the south and in some sections to the north reported as high as 90 degrees.

"Fair and hot," is the simple formula for Atlanta's weather again today as given out by C. F. von Herrmann, chief of the local branch of the weather bureau.

"There is no chance for any rain and the temperatures will be about as high today as on Wednesday," he said. "Although we are having plenty of warm weather now, no records are being broken. We have had many days in May with higher temperatures than this year."

The official reading of the thermometer Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock showed 72 degrees. By 3 o'clock in the afternoon the mercury had climbed up to 91 degrees.

While the sun continued to beat down with unusual fervor Wednesday, thousands crowded to parks and went on long motor rides to enjoy the first real summer sports.

MAY HEAT RECORD BROKEN AT MACON. Macon, Ga., May 26.—(P)—A temperature of 97.1 degrees was recorded here today, within 9 of a degree of the hottest May weather recorded in the 27 years' history of the United States bureau. The previous day's record was 95.

RECORD FOR YEAR AT COLUMBUS. Columbus, Ga., May 26.—(P)—Columbus sweltered today on the hottest day of the year when the mercury reached 95 degrees. The lowest point was 62 degrees. The hot weather was continued over from Tuesday when the maximum temperatures were 93 and 98 degrees.

AUGUSTA REPORTS 100-DEGREE MAXIMUM. Augusta, Ga., May 26.—(P)—The temperature of 100 degrees recorded at the United States weather bureau here today equaled the highest on record for May 26.

100 REACHED AT AUGUSTA. Augusta, Ga., May 26.—(P)—The temperature of 100 degrees recorded at the United States weather bureau here today equaled the highest on record for May 26.

LONG DROUTH INJURES CROPS IN KENTUCKY

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 26.—(P)—Farmers in this section today began to worry over the continued drouth in so far as it affected crop prospects. The last rain of any consequence here was on April 8.

Senators Edwards and Caraway Engage in Lively Word Battle on Floor of Upper House.

JUDICIARY BODY TO PROBE ORDER

Debate Becomes So Heated at One Time That Point of Order Is Called By Senator Walsh.

Washington, May 26.—(P)—More back-firing on the prohibition question was heard today in both houses of congress as the senate judiciary committee prepared to discuss tomorrow the legality of President Coolidge's order authorizing the employment of state and local officers as federal enforcement agents.

The order was defended in the house by Representative Swing, republican, California, in whose state it is first to be put into effect. He said it was not in conflict with the constitution, was not without precedent and added that he felt confident the people of California as a whole would be glad to cooperate with federal officials in enforcing the dry law.

In the senate Senator Edwards, democrat, New Jersey, a leader of the wets, renewed his assault on the order while Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, a dry, delivered a general prohibition speech assailing the wets for what he termed their propaganda and asserting that no one who believed in law enforcement wanted a national referendum on the prohibition question.

No Hearing. While the discussion was developing into sharp tilts between wet and dry senators Chairman Cummins, of the judiciary committee, announced that it would begin informal discussion tomorrow under the state and individual members of the committee. He said that the committee would not hold a formal hearing on the order.

"I have no doubt in my own mind that it is without warrant at law," Senator Cummins said. "The president has no more right to issue that order than I did. I am not saying that the government cannot employ state officers in prohibition enforcement efforts. That is either by the attorney general or the commission of internal revenue."

Representative Swing had a different view, declaring in the house that the order was not an intrusion on state rights.

Fiery Exchange. The senate debate resolved itself into a fiery exchange between Senators Caraway and Bruce, democrat, Maryland, one of the wet leaders. The discussion became so heated at one time that Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, a dry, made a point of order that there was "disorder in the chamber." As the climax to the interchange, Senator Bruce shouted that he wanted the prohibition law changed so there might be sobriety in the land.

The only way to be sober is to stop drinking," shot back Senator Caraway. He added that the country was faced with one of two propositions, either the return of old conditions under the saloon, or the retention of the present prohibition law.

KRIM SURRENDERS ENDING REBELLION

Riffian Leader Comes Within French Lines To Accept Peace Terms Made Recently.

Fez, Morocco, May 26.—(P)—Abd-el-Krim, the defeated Riffian leader, has surrendered and with his surrender the complete collapse of the Riffian cause is claimed by the French and Spanish forces in Morocco.

"I have the honor to inform your majesty," French High Commissioner Steeg telegraphed the sultan of Morocco—commonly regarded as a French agent—"that Abd-el-Krim surrenders Wednesday night within the French lines. Thus ends the rebellion in Morocco. The tribes which have been fighting under Krim against France and Spain are to be placed under your sovereignty."

Abd-el-Krim with his wives and his personal fortune, is on the way to Taza, where he will be taken in charge by representatives of the sultan. He was expected to reach Taza in a few hours. Prior to his announcement of surrender Krim released French and Spanish prisoners, some of whom had been held captive more than a year.

The surrender of Krim was unconditional. It was announced that the Louisville delegation's resolution proposing a change in the federal charter is before the emergency committee. It would release opposing clubs from any responsibility for measures endorsed by a majority of the federation.

UPON SHERIFF TELLS CORONER'S JURY MACON WIDOW CONFESSED TO SHOT THAT KILLED BOSTICK.

WOMAN IS HELD FOR JURY PROBE

Mrs. Stringfield, Officer Says, Placed Gun in Lover's Mouth and Pulled Trigger.

Thomaston, Ga., May 26.—(Special).—That Mrs. Cleo Stringfield, 25, attractive widow of Macon, admitted to him that she shot and killed George Bostick, 35, also of Macon, as she slept in a Thomaston hotel on May 18, was the statement of Sheriff S. S. Lee, of Upson county, before the coroner's jury here today, which ordered Mrs. Stringfield held until the July term of the grand jury.

In the confession which Sheriff Lee recited to the coroner's jury as coming from the lips of Mrs. Stringfield, she said that she shot and killed Bostick while he was asleep at a boarding house here a week ago, following a quarrel over their proposed marriage.

According to Sheriff Lee's report of the confession to the coroner's jury, Mrs. Stringfield said they were en route to Phenix City, Fla., to wed. The sheriff said that Mrs. Stringfield told in detail of the quarrel and how finally Bostick retired. Mrs. Stringfield waited until he was asleep and then after pondering over her predicament recalled the fact that Bostick had put a .38-caliber pistol under a pillow, the sheriff quoted her as saying.

She seized the pistol, according to the report of the confession, and thrust the muzzle into Bostick's open mouth, pulling the trigger. It was at this point that the woman screamed and roomers rushed in to find Bostick's lifeless body across the bed.

Has Two Children. Mrs. Stringfield's two children, Andrew, age 5, and James, age 2, were brought here today and are still with her. The children were accompanied by their grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Rodgers, of Macon.

Sheriff Lee said that the confession from the woman was obtained last Saturday, but at her request he had kept it secret until today's session of the coroner's jury. Mrs. Stringfield, he said, did not want to go before the jury and tell of the quarrel preceding the tragedy.

Mrs. Stringfield was taken to the jail at Griffin tonight. The Upson jury was sworn today and the coroner's jury met here today for the first time since the tragedy.

MOSS IS NOMINATED TREASURY ASSISTANT

Washington, May 26.—(P)—The nomination of McKenzie Moss, an assistant secretary of the treasury, to be a judge of the federal court of claims in the place of Judge George E. Downey, who died here this week, was sent to the senate today by President Coolidge.

Women Club Leaders Rebel In Ranks of Federation

OPPOSITION LAUNCHED AGAINST ADMINISTRATION

Atlantic City, N. J., May 26.—(P)—Under current of opposition to the organization and administration of the general federation of women's clubs broadened their channels today.

Mrs. Joshua Hodgins, of Marinette, Wisconsin, reporting on the West Baden biennial council told the 18th biennial convention that the organization was top-heavy with city women, while leaders of the "Louisville Rebellion," announced they had sent a letter to Mrs. John D. Sherman, national president, asking whether their minority voice deserved majority rule binding minority clubs would be heard.

Mrs. Atwood Martin, publicist and writer, who is leader of the rebellious group, said the letter was sent after her report a paragraph stating the ruling that resolutions adopted by the federation, unanimously or not, should be considered the action of the general federation. The paragraph was reinserted after Mrs. Sherman's attention was called to the omission and she stated that it had been passed over in an effort to shorten the time required for reading the report, advance copies of which were distributed to the press yesterday.

WOMAN SLEW BAPTIST FUNDAMENTALISTS DECIDE AGAINST BOLTING AFTER CONVENTION DEFEAT

JONES, GUNN WIN; BRITISH RANKS SADLY DEPLETED

Harris Only Great English Ace Left as Jones and Guilford Both Take Two Matches.

OUIMET IS BEATEN BY JESS SWEETSER

Chances of Americans Look Better as 32 Survivors Prepare To Tee Off For Thursday Matches.

BY H. C. HAMILTON, Sports Editor, The Constitution.

Muirfield, Scotland, May 26.—With the field in the British amateur golf championship narrowed to 32 competitors, four members of America's Walker cup team remain in the running and their chances are considered exceptionally bright.

The early rounds, while they took their toll of some of the best American players, played havoc in the ranks of the foremost British players, of whom Robert Harris, the defending champion, is now the only outstanding star left in the running.

Under the circumstances, Bobby Jones' stock has taken a tremendous rise. The canny Scots who have followed the play during the first three days like the chances of the American amateur champion, as well as those of his teammate, Watts Gunn.

Jess Sweetser eliminated Francis Ouimet Wednesday and the feeling is that the American threat has been slightly lessened by this unexpected result.

Jess Guilford is the other American Walker cup team member who remains in the tournament.

Regret Evans' Fall. There is genuine regret over the defeat of Chick Evans, of Chicago, who lost to J. B. Beck, Wednesday, 3 and 1. Evans, who was overlooked by the United States Golf association this year, had forewarned British hospitality and had been plugging and practicing in an effort to demonstrate his golfing worth. The Scotch regarded Evans as a dangerous contender, but the veteran had to take his medicine with a smile Wednesday.

The games put up by Bobby Jones and Watts Gunn glittered in spots. The American champion went around twice, winning his second and third rounds, while Gunn, with the aid of a bye in the second round, played but one match. This was sensational, however.

Gunn's opponent was John Wilson, of Scotland. The match was squared at the eleventh, but at the twelfth, the Atlanta youngster dropped an iron shot dead on the pin and holed out for a birdie three. At the thirteenth, which is a short iron shot, Watts went to the right of the green into a hollow, but chipped out with his niblick dead to the pin again, and won the hole with another three.

On the long fourteenth, the American youngster dropped an iron shot dead on the pin and holed out for a birdie three. At the thirteenth, which is a short iron shot, Watts went to the right of the green into a hollow, but chipped out with his niblick dead to the pin again, and won the hole with another three.

Goldstrom Plans to Take Plane for Moscow Today

GLOBE-CIRCLER MAY YET CATCH SIBERIAN EXPRESS

Copyright, 1926, for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

Koenigsberg, May 26.—John Goldstrom, racing against time to break the round-the-world record, arrived here late this afternoon by airplane, en route to Moscow. Although forced by fog to halt several times since he left Berlin at 2 a. m. today, Goldstrom is still in a position to make Moscow in time to catch airplanes which will overtake the Trans-Siberian express train.

He is due to leave here by plane 7:30 Thursday morning (1:30 Thursday morning) New York time. Goldstrom's airplane, after leaving Berlin became lost in the fog south of Danzig. He finally found an opening at the south and returned to Berlin after four terrible hours in the air. He started again in three hours and in spite of motor trouble reached Danzig a little after noon, arriving in fog and rain.

He left immediately and was again forced back by fog and motor trouble. Finally at 2:40 p. m. Goldstrom's plane found an opening and took off across Danzig bay flying over the Baltic sea in a fog and arriving safely here at 3:50 p. m.

Without mishap, Goldstrom will arrive in Moscow tomorrow seven days and 17 hours out of New York, which will be record time.

SEPARATE NAVAL ARMS CONFERENCE STILL POSSIBILITY

Preparatory Commission On Disarmament Adjourns To Meet Again In Autumn.

Geneva, May 26.—(P)—Both Hugh S. Gibson, American delegate, and Viscount Cecil, British delegate, to the preparatory commission on disarmament today expressed the opinion that the commission has made a splendid start on its work and that all the representatives have shown great sincerity.

The commission adjourned today, turning over a mass of technical questions to committees, and probably will resume its work sometime next autumn.

Viscount Cecil, for one, does not consider that a separate naval agreement, as suggested by Japanese diplomats, is in the offing. Before departing for England tonight, he told the correspondents that it might well appear during the progress of the preparatory work at Geneva that it would be possible to treat special phases of disarmament apart. He said that he could see no reason why the Geneva effort should hold up other negotiations.

He emphasized, however, that it would not be desirable to arrange any conference that might seem to compete with the Geneva meeting. His idea was that any naval negotiations should dovetail into the main effort which is now being undertaken by the preparatory commission.

Meanwhile the Japanese have not lost heart that their suggestion for a three-power naval conference between the United States, Great Britain and Japan will materialize. Their hope, of course, is that France and Italy will join in a naval conference which should not be permitted to embarrass the centralized struggle against competitive armaments.

Hungary Attacks Entente. Feverish reinforcing of armaments by most of the European countries which contain the germs of new wars was alleged today by Hungary in a memorandum presented to the preparatory disarmament commission.

Hungary also complained with bitterness that, practically disarmed herself, she is surrounded by a group of allied countries possessing vastly superior military forces.

By this memorandum Hungary has placed herself at the side of Germany which, through Count Von Bernstorff, already has protested that the Germans have been disarmed while their neighbors are permitted powerful military forces.

The Hungarian memorandum caused a sensation chiefly because of its declaration that if the entente aims of certain countries continue to hold up the speedy restriction of armaments, the commission might just as well abandon its disarmament project before it developed into a plain fiasco and seek some other basis for the maintenance of world peace.

PAN-AMERICAN RED CROSS NAMES J. B. PAYNE HEAD

Washington, May 26.—(P)—John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, was unanimously elected by the second Pan-American Red Cross conference today as its permanent chairman. Getulio Dos Santos, secretary of the Brazilian Red Cross was named secretary general, and the presidents of Latin American countries represented at the conference and the governor general of Canada were designated as honorary presidents.

The conference, which is being attended by delegates from Latin American republics and Canada, authorized appointment of special commissions to study all phases of Red Cross activities.

WILL CARRY FIGHT OVER MODERNISM BACK TO CHURCHES

Leaders of Bible Union To Renew Efforts To Oust Pastors of Opposing Faction.

CONVENTION VOTES FOR COMPROMISE

Refuses To Expel Those Churches Which Admit Some Members Without Immersion.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, May 26.—Ultra-fundamentalists have decided to carry back to the rank and file of the denomination their campaign for expulsion of those churches from the Northern Baptist convention after their defeat on the floor of the convention here Wednesday.

This agreement was reached at a protest meeting Wednesday night of the Bible Union of North America, the fundamentalist organization which initiated the movement for ousting the modernists and of which the leading fundamentalists are members.

The ultra-fundamentalists will not withdraw from the convention as was suggested; it was decided, speakers at the meeting Wednesday night urged that now is the time to remain in the convention, in order to carry on the fight. It was predicted that the action of the convention would cause a strong reaction among the rank and file of the denomination, especially in the smaller churches in rural sections and small towns.

Plan Big Campaign. The campaign will be carried to the churches during the coming year, according to the plan mapped out Wednesday night, and a renewed effort will be made next year to ban the modernists churches, centered in the Park Avenue church, of New York, of which Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, leading modernist, is pastor, and which is attended by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The Bible Union of North America met here several days before the convention, assembled, and inaugurated the move to expel the modernists. It plans to hold a mass meeting Thursday night in protest at the convention's action.

After the defeat on the floor Wednesday, which came at the end of a dramatic debate, leaders of the ultra-fundamentalist group deserted the convention and went into conference to decide their course.

Action Is Resented. They resented strongly the action of the convention, which adopted a compromise resolution presented by Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

Vice President Dawes Plans to Renew Attempt To Reform Senate Rules

Senator Underwood, Alabama, Will Introduce New Resolution on Modified Scale.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, May 26.—One last effort is being made by Vice President Dawes to save his rules reform campaign from complete oblivion before congress adjourns. Advised by senate leaders that his original plan has no chance whatever, Dawes is endeavoring to save some remnants of it by compromise proposal.

This activity, and his appearance in the role of a friend of the farm relief proposed in the Haugen bill which the Coolidge forces are opposing, have revived discussion of his supposed presidential ambitions and have tended to rescue him temporarily at least from the vice presidential oblivion in which he has been buried most of this session.

When Dawes learned that his plan for a limitation of all senate debate by majority vote faced insurmountable opposition, he pared it down so that the majority clause would apply only to revenue and appropriation bills. A new resolution, embodying this deflated plan, was offered in the senate May 17 by Senator Underwood, Alabama, democrat, who sponsored the original Dawes resolution. The vice president is not permitted to introduce legislation and requested the former democratic leader to handle it for him. Underwood said that he will make a speech on the resolution next week and will endeavor to have some action taken on it though he is afraid the opposition cannot be overcome.

There was considerable surprise among politicians over the discovery that Dawes is sympathetic toward the Haugen farm relief bill with its equalization fee. This is the measure introduced by former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, and opposed by Coolidge. It has been regarded as the vehicle of the Lowden boom for the republican presidential nomination in 1928. The appearance of Dawes, who also comes from Illinois, as a champion of this principle, and the knowledge that Dawes and Lowden are very close friends, caused political speculation around the capital. A memorandum prepared by Dawes in which he defended the equalization fee for financing export crop surpluses was inserted in The Congressional Record by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, generally regarded as an administration man, but a supporter of the Haugen bill.

Dawes declared the principle is not a price-fixing device and regards it as sound economically. This led to suggestions of a Lowden-Dawes-Watson political alliance which gained plausibility from the fact that the Coolidge forces through Postmaster General New and Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, used their influence against Watson in the recent Indiana primaries.

The fact that both Dawes and Lowden come from the same state will make it necessary for one to step aside in favor of the other, lest they kill each other off, for no presidential aspirant can go far without the united support of his state's organization. Watson's flirtation in this direction is causing considerable interest because of his presidential inclinations. The senator said he had not been consulted about all of this and is probably will want the nomination for himself the contest is not yet prepared to fight. They appear to regard farm relief as their best lever. They are counting on this congress adjourning without any farm legislation, and on a continuing dissatisfaction in the agricultural states which would give them fertile soil to work. However, the chances always are strongly in favor of a president being renominated if he no desires because he controls the patronage and almost all of the southern delegates. Though this principle has been repeatedly demonstrated and most strikingly so in the case of the Taft-Roosevelt fight of 1912, the presidential bee stings deep and causes its victims to fight on in face of great odds, hoping for the favorable break that lures them all to the bitter, often humiliating, end.

Louisiana Has Measure To Bar Atheist Teachers

Baton Rouge, La., May 26.—(P)—A measure which would prevent any atheist or infidel from teaching in public or state-supported schools was introduced in the lower house of the Louisiana legislature today. The bill, which was proposed as a substitute for another anti-evolution proposal, would also prohibit any person who does not believe in "a supreme being as the ruler of the universe," from lecturing in any state public school building. Colonel T. Samboles Jones, of East Baton Rouge parish, is the author of the proposed substitute bill.

The original anti-evolution bill, introduced early in the session by Representative C. H. Hudson, of Union parish, would prohibit the teaching of any theory of the evolution of man other than that contained in the Bible. It contains a provision of a fine of from $10 to $1,000 and 10 days imprisonment on conviction of violation of the proposed law.

Mr. Hudson declared tonight that he can "imagine an infidel who would make a splendid professor." He said the proposed substitute would prohibit a person from making a livelihood by teaching regardless of whether he attempted to force his ideas upon others. "That is not the purpose of my bill," asserted Mr. Hudson. "I am trying to safeguard the young—to see that their spiritual beliefs are not shaken before they are sufficiently old to judge these questions for themselves."

FAKE NOBLEMAN WILL GET TRIAL IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, May 26.—(P)—Although a score of cities scattered over the United States would like to try Herman Kreuger, self-styled "Lion Beaverbrook," the suave defendant will first face a jury here under charges of grand larceny, it was ruled today.

Kreuger, said by detectives to have married many women and defrauded them of hundreds of thousands of dollars, was arrested here Monday while enjoying one of his favorite luxuries—tensorial attention.

Judge Horace Stern in common pleas court today ordered him placed on trial next Tuesday. A move by Kreuger's counsel for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain his release on bail while awaiting extradition to New York, where he is wanted on charges of swindling a woman out of $125,000, was blocked by presentation of a bill of indictment returned here June 10, 1924. This bill named Kreuger under one of his many aliases, "Frederick B. Stanley," and alleged that he defrauded Mrs. Frances Kemp out of $18,000.

Kreuger told police he recently lost what money he had left to professional gamblers. He said he was "flat broke."

END IS PREDICTED IN PIGGLY WIGGLY STOCK DISPUTE

Memphis, Tenn., May 26.—(P)—An end was in sight tonight for a suit brought by H. L. Moon, against seven former directors of the Piggly Wiggly corporation in an effort to collect $2,500,000 as alleged losses incurred by the corporation in the Clarence Saunders stock activities of 1922-23.

The complainant closed his proof late today, and the defense moved for a directed verdict on the ground that there was no evidence in the record to show that fraud was practiced by E. A. Guilfoyle in having a similar suit dismissed with prejudice, last January.

At the time the Guilfoyle suit was dismissed the court declared that the former directors were not liable to the stockholders for losses incurred by the stock venture of the corporation's former president.

YORK'S DAUGHTER ATTENDS PARTY IN QUEEN'S HONOR

London, May 26.—Tiny Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, holding a bouquet in her baby fist, called on Queen Mary Wednesday to attend her first party—the celebration of the 50th birthday of England's queen.

With her mother and father, the youngest member of King George's family attracted the attention of the king and queen and the Prince of Wales when she was held up to present her bouquet to the queen.

A quiet family luncheon which all the members of the royal family attended marked the celebration.

Forsyth Farmer Shot As Negro Given Lift Attacks Driver of Car

Forsyth, Ga., May 26.—(Special.) Officers who returned here this afternoon from the vicinity of Box Ankle, about five miles from here, reported that they lost track of the unknown negro who early today shot Ellen Bailey at his home near Forsyth, although they stated they were close enough at one time to exchange shots with the negro, without effect. The officers brought back with them the negro's shirt and hat, which he discarded in the chase.

Bailey, a well known young farmer, was working in his field near Forsyth when he noticed a negro struggling with the driver of an automobile passing him. Shortly thereafter, the car turned over, and Bailey ran to give assistance.

The negro ran, and Gordon Lane, the owner of the car, asked Bailey to catch him and hold him for the officers. As Bailey caught up with the fleeing negro, the latter turned and shot him with a revolver that he had taken from Lane, the bullet entering the right hip. Bailey was taken to a Macon hospital for an X-ray of his wound. It is said that neither he nor Bailey could identify the negro. Lane was giving him a lift on his request, and he was trying to take the car away from the owner, having hit him on the head. It was reported that the same negro tried to steal a car in the county Tuesday night.

COURT FIGHT SEEN OVER STOKES' WILL

New York, May 26.—(P)—The will of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel owner, was filed for probate today, making no bequest for his wife, Mrs. Helen Edwood Stokes, and their two children, Mrs. Stokes' attorney immediately announced that the will would be contested.

Mrs. Stokes won a separation and custody of the children after Stokes had tried in vain for five years to obtain a divorce on charges of infidelity. The entire estate, mentioned in the will as "over $200,000" but estimated as high as $1,000,000, was left to W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., son of Stokes and Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig, who divorced the hotel owner shortly after their child was born.

Shortly after the will was filed today, Samuel Untermyer, attorney for Mrs. Stokes, received a telegram from Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, where Mrs. Stokes lives, directing him to take immediate legal action to safeguard the interests of the younger children, both of whom are wards of Judge Lindsey's court.

By the action of contesting the will as the ruler of the universe, from the affairs of the elder Stokes will be involved in litigation after his death as they were almost constantly for years while he was alive.

Either because of domestic troubles or business disagreements, Mr. Stokes was most always, during the latter part of his life, to be found on record as a litigant in one court or another. The son who was named the estate and Albert H. Gleason, of New York, were named as executors.

Mr. Untermyer said the will would be contested on grounds of "undue influence and want of testamentary capacity."

An $800,000 separation settlement between Mr. and Mrs. Stokes, which was to go to her children at her death, is worth only a dower right sacrificed by her at the time of the settlement, he said.

"It makes no difference," Mr. Untermyer said, "whether the turning over of the $1,000,000 estate to one of the children to the exclusion of the others was claimed to be a gift or a devise by will. The rights of the children will be protected."

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL HENDRIXS HEAD SEEKS CHANGE IN NAME OF ODD FELLOWS

Athens, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—Graduating 225 students, many of whom have already accepted positions to teach in Georgia schools, the State Normal school closed its 1926 commencement exercises today with an address by Dr. Carter Helm Jones, of Athens, whose subject was "Culture."

The board of trustees of the State Normal school closed its session after adopting a resolution requesting the general assembly to change the name of the institution to the "State Normal college."

Dr. Jere M. Pound read the annual report showing the progress of the institution. The practice school was changed to the State Normal academy. Miss Roberta Hodgson, of the faculty, was granted a year's leave of absence.

The kind of culture that Dr. Jones advocated should be spelled with a "c" not a "k," he said. The so-called highbrow culture was not the type of culture he said he hoped the normal graduates had gained.

His definition of a highbrow was a person in whom education had outstripped intelligence. True culture is a harmonious development of the spiritual, intellectual and moral side of man. Culture is not the capability of saying pretty nothing. It can't be inherited and is not a result of school alone, Dr. Jones reminded the audience.

"The educational system of today is turning too much toward specialization. There is too much of the effort of today expended in learning one thing and so the student is turned out one-sided and not truly cultured," he continued.

The world of today, he said, demands that everything be measured and weighed and turned into the coin of the realm. Such methods tend to commercialize the student instead of developing men and women with idealistic dreams.

FURTHER VOLCANIC ACTIVITY FEARED
BY STRICKEN JAPS

Tokyo, May 26.—(P)—A dispatch to the newspaper Nichi Nichi from Hokkaido says the volcano Tokachi, which erupted Monday with heavy loss of life, still was threatening today, with occasional emissions of smoke, causing residents to fear more eruptions.

Rescue work was difficult owing to dense mists and failure of electric lights and communications. Hundreds continued, however, to burrow in the mass of mud, rocks and lava, removing the dead. Occasional efforts were rewarded by finding a living person in the debris.

The loss of life is estimated unofficially at 200, but this may be an exaggeration.

Columbus, Ga., May 26.—(P)—The Georgia grand lodge of Odd Fellows in their 83d annual session here today elected the following officers: R. Howard Hendrix, of Columbus, grand master; T. H. Robertson, of Gainesville, elected grand secretary and grand scribe; T. D. Ridley, Dalton, grand warden; M. L. Ledford, Calhoun, deputy grand master; J. M. Bodenhamer, of Decatur, grand treasurer; and D. L. Nichols, of Atlanta, grand representative.

The convention of Odd Fellows and Rebekah assembly convened with more than 500 delegates from the 463 subordinate lodges of Odd Fellows and the 50 Rebekah lodges of the state in attendance.

Mrs. Marion Woodberry, of Augusta, was elected president of the Rebekah assembly, of Georgia, to succeed Mrs. A. C. Bishop, of Athens, at the eighty-third annual convention of the order here today.

Other officers named were Mrs. J. E. Bodenhamer, of Decatur, vice president; Mrs. Irie Henderson, of Savannah; Mrs. M. C. Strickland, of Atlanta, secretary; and Mrs. A. C. Bishop, of Athens, representative of the sovereign grand lodge of the order here today.

Appointed officers will probably be named at tomorrow's session, it was announced.

Tonight features of the convention of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah convention were when degree teams, sponsored by 16 Odd Fellow lodges and eight Rebekah lodges, staged contests for which banners were awarded the winning teams.

Problems faced by the passenger department were discussed. After the business session the visitors were entertained at dinner at the Baltimore.

SOCIAL HEADS PLAN TO EXPAND IN SCOPE

Cleveland, May 26.—(P)—Modern social work will reach out into every field of human activity, will extend its services not only to the poor, but to the rich as well.

Miss Gertrude Valle, Denver, president of the National Conference of Social Work, sounded this objective as the future goal of America's welfare work in opening the organization's 33rd convention here tonight.

"Social work will be no class lines between rich and poor," she said. "It will provide a more abundant life for all the people and there will be no class, but one man, woman or child is left behind."

As our aim has grown wider and clearer the lines of class and other superficial distinction have broken down.

"We find the children of the well to do, even as those of the poor, call for the attention of the visiting teachers or the juvenile court; the pauper patient may be just as much in need of medical or psychiatric social service as the free patient and that the child of the very rich may even be mal-nourished no less than the child of the poverty-stricken family."

Miss Valle carried her message to 5,000 social workers attending the conference from every state in the union. The conference tomorrow will meet in 12 divisions for conclusions of specific phases of social work.

ATTEMPT TO EXPEL

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, of Oakland, Calif., under which modernist churches are allowed representation in the convention, after turning down a demand for exclusion of modernist churches and behind which fundamentalists threw their strength.

Others attending the conference besides Brougher were Dr. W. B. Riley, of Minneapolis; Dr. J. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, Texas; Dr. T. T. Shields, of Toronto, Canada; and Dr. John Roach Straton, of New York, who furnished the sensation of the debate by a vigorous denunciation of Rev. Barry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Park Avenue church in New York, which fundamentalists sought to oust from the organization.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who attends Fosdick's church and is regarded as the "angel" of modernism.

Straton made the only reference to Fosdick and Rockefeller, but did not call their names, but these two men, neither of whom were present, loomed always in the background during the two-hour debate on the floor.

The ultra-fundamentalists have joined battle with them, and do not try to disguise the fact.

Fosdick Is Flayed.

Straton referred to Fosdick as "the man who would try to make us believe we can be Christians and not believe anything at all."

He brought prolonged applause from the fundamentalists when he declared that "there is too much oil in the northern Baptist convention now," referring to Rockefeller.

Straton and his colleagues gave no indication before their conference of what they will do. Other fundamentalists of the rank and file predicted that they would "take their medicine," and let the issue drop until next year.

There is no doubt, however, that there is a distinct cleavage in the organization, in whatever form the dissatisfaction expresses itself. The compromise resolution was adopted through support of the large percentage of "middle-of-the-roads" in the convention, who hold strictly to the Baptist fundamental faith, but did not want to see the convention split over the issue, with what that would mean.

The small number of ultra-modernists threw their weight behind it. No one was present from the Park Avenue church to participate in the struggle.

MASS MEETING PLANNED BY FUNDAMENTALISTS.

Washington, May 26.—(P)—A mass meeting on the steps of the capitol tomorrow night is planned by fundamentalists of the Northern Baptist church, who are attending the church's national convention here.

Dr. John Roach Straton, of New York, who is arranging for the meeting, said it would be held "to denounce the attempted control of the Northern Baptist Church by the Rockefeller."

"The Northern church has too much faith in Rockefeller," said Dr. Straton today, "and too little faith in the living God. When a course of action is proposed its leaders think first of what 26 Broadway will think about it rather than what God will think."

The movement to oust the modernist churches was stronger than had been anticipated in some quarters. The amendment to the by-laws offered by Riley, which the fundamentalists supported, received 1,064 votes. It restricts membership of Baptist churches in the convention to those who have been immersed, and would have eliminated modernist churches which practice immersion but receive members without it. The vote against it was 2,020. This amendment was offered to the Brougher resolution, after the convention had tabled the so-called Seattle amendment, whose effect was essentially the same, with a little different phrasing. "The Riley amendment reads:

"Recognizes Constituency." "The Northern Baptist convention recognizes its constituency as consisting solely of those Baptist churches in which the immersion of believers is recognized and practiced as a prerequisite of membership."

The Brougher resolution requires that delegates to the convention must be immersed believers but allows churches to belong to the convention which admit members without immersion, so long as they do not practice "sprinkling" or other forms of baptism thus affording a loophole. The resolution reads:

"The Northern Baptist convention recognizes its constituency as consisting solely of those Baptist churches in which the immersion of believers is recognized and practiced as the only scriptural baptism; and the convention hereby declares that only immersed members will be recognized as delegates to the convention."

This resolution was accepted by a standing vote, with no count made. Nearly a score of church leaders took part in the debate, which was interrupted frequently by thunderous applause, and often by shouts from the floor.

13 Are Injured As Six Coaches Are Overturned

Daytona Beach, Fla., May 26.—(P)—Reports from Titusville tonight state that six coaches of Florida East Coast through train No. 81, southbound, overturned at Mims, near Titusville, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Twelve persons are reported to have been taken to Titusville, where their minor injuries were dressed. One negro worker in the dining car, said to have been burned severely, has been taken to the F. E. C. hospital at St. Augustine. The train and the injured passengers proceeded to their destinations.

No definite cause for the wreck has been determined. Southbound trains are not delayed and the tracks have been cleared, according to local officials of the road.

The list of injured includes: Mrs. J. R. Smith, Hialeah, Fla.; Mrs. H. E. Walker, Miami; Nichol Seville, Miami; Miss R. B. Rivers, Hialeah; C. C. Dawns, West Palm Beach; Earle Freeman, Pennsylvania; J. D. Lounsbrough, Atlanta, Ga.; Ira Wood, Kansas City, Kansas; Miss Marie Dawson, Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

MEXICAN BISHOP IS FOUND GUILTY IN RELIGIOUS WAR

Mexico City, May 26.—(P)—Bishop Manrique Zarate, of Pachuca, has been found guilty in his preliminary trial of having in a pastoral letter, protested against the religious clauses of the constitution and sentenced to confinement in jail pending a final trial. The bishop, however, was not taken into custody. He was permitted to go under bail, on the condition that he remains in Pachuca for trial later.

woman on the side of the platform began to pray in a distinctly audible voice, asking that the Bible of the mothers be saved. Dr. Rhoades finished his prayer, and announced that he knew the young woman and that she was mentally ill. She was taken from the platform.

Opponents of the Brougher resolution contended that it was contrary to the Baptist belief and would open the way to all sorts of irregularities. They demanded that immersion be required for membership in every Baptist church which asked a place in the convention.

Its advocates held that it would unite all sections of the organization, and that it preserved the independence of the local churches. Adoption of the Riley amendment, they contended, would break faith with those who had come into the church under the previous agreement, and held further that it would lead to splitting of the church tending in time toward disintegration.

rebel Riffian leader who for more than two years has successfully opposed the French and Spanish forces would rely entirely on the French for fair treatment. No mention was made of his brother, who has acted as Krim's minister of foreign affairs during the rule of the chieftain in Morocco.

Formal surrender will be made in the presence of both Stoeck and the sultan of Morocco. It will be accompanied by Krim's acceptance of peace terms which will signify the sweeping victory of all French and Spanish claims in Morocco, including complete disarmament of the Riffian tribesmen.

First indications that Krim was preparing to surrender came early Wednesday when groups of prisoners long held captive by the Riffian chieftain were handed over to the French at Targuist. The French troops received the prisoners, many of them weak from months of imprisonment in Riffian prison camps, and saluted the Riffian soldiers who accompanied them. The first group of 40 European prisoners to arrive was greeted by enthusiasm from their comrades in arms. Later 132 Algerians and Senegalese prisoners were turned over to the French and with them 105 Spanish soldiers who had been held in addition there were 19 Spanish civilians, including two women and four children. These released captives passed through the French lines at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Evidence of complete collapse and impending surrender of the Riffian chieftain did not halt the advance of the French troops. Shortly after the French and Spanish prisoners the French troops captured Djebel and Hamman, commanding the Ghis valley and leading to the Mediterranean. Thus the French attained all the objectives assigned them in the conference of Madrid.

BRIAND HELPED BY KRIM SURRENDER

Paris, May 26.—(P)—News that Abd-El-Krim, the Riffian war lord, was on his way to the French lines to surrender, has come at an opportune moment for the Briand cabinet. Although Krim's submission has been looked for at any time during the past week, it caused a great sensation in the lobbies of the chamber of deputies where a group of political leaders were busily engaged in laying plans for the reopening of parliament tomorrow.

The news has particularly upset the plan of the socialists and radicals for eliminating Morocco as a political issue of which they were very fond.

"The wish is also uppermost in my heart to inspire individual responsibility that shall better all space occupied; that shall refresh and strengthen all contraries; that shall teach kindness as the mark of high character and that no hope is deserved save that which men, the high sacrifice."

"To this is added the desire to coordinate persons and surroundings to a wise degree, never losing sight of the fact that one's greatness is within one's self and not in one's environment, but that there is a harmony

Presbyterians Accept
Report of Committee
On Foreign Missions

Action of Conference Disposes of Hancock Case, Three-Year-Old Issue.

Pennacola, Fla., May 26.—(P)—Adoption of the report of the standing committee on foreign missions of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, disposed of the "Hancock case" which has been discussed by agencies of the church for three years and was before the last general assembly.

The action today was approval of the course of the executive committee on foreign missions. The Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Hancock, Austin, Texas, sought reassignment as missionaries to China, the executive committee having declined to authorize their return.

By direction of the last general assembly, the foreign missions committee reopened the matter and reaffirmed its former action against the return of the two missionaries. The matter was before general assembly here on numerous overtures from presbyters.

The assembly also commended the action of the executive committee in offering to return Mr. Hancock to meet the mission under which he served in China and directed that the offer remain open until after the next annual meeting of the North American Presbyterian conference.

Hancock may have full opportunity to arrange for his return for appearance before it or in his absence the mission may have "yet another opportunity to open to him one of its stations."

Discussion of Matter.

In discussion of the matter today, when it was brought to a conclusion after parts of two days had been devoted to its consideration, the general assembly declared that the origin of the whole matter was to be found "not in the attitude and action of the executive committee but in the attitude and actions of the mission in China of which the Hancocks were members; and that the executive committee has rather endeavored at times to mediate between the Hancocks and the unwilling mission."

Speakers and the assembly by adoption of the committee report, paid tribute to the devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock to the missionary cause and expressed "keen distress for and with them in this trial of faith."

It was pointed out that "no taint of wrong charge of failure attaches to them. Mrs. Hancock, it was emphasized, has had two severe attacks of sickness."

Dr. Egbert W. Smith, Nashville, Tenn., was re-elected executive secretary of the executive committee of foreign missions; Dr. J. O. Reavis, field and candidate secretary; Edward D. Grant, educational secretary, and Dr. C. Darby Fulton, field secretary, all for three years.

Dr. S. H. Chester and Dr. M. F. Williams were elected secretaries emeritus. All members of the executive committee whose terms expired were re-elected, and Dr. J. G. Venable, Chattanooga, was elected following his appointment by the committee to fill a vacancy.

The church court today named a committee of four ministers and five ruling elders to consider the whole matter of duties and activities of executive agencies to report at the next meeting of the general assembly.

A committee was named to report plans for the establishment and maintenance of a permanent historical and research department in connection with taking over the Presbyterian Historical Society of Texas.

The committee consisted of Dr. T. W. Currie, Austin, Texas; Dr. W. L. Hickman, Texarkana, Texas; and Dr. J. D. Leslie, Dallas, Texas, stated clerk and secretary of publication.

A committee also was named to consider training schools for lay workers in connection with the request of Austin seminary, Austin, Texas, that it be permitted to look into the possibility of establishing such a school.

The report of the standing committee on Christian education and ministerial relief submitted by its chairman, Dr. John V. McCall, of Peabody, won the approval of the assembly to a recommendation that the year 1930 be set aside as a time for the completion of a fund that will take care of prior services of its ministers and missionaries, the amount to be determined by actual requirements.

On recommendation of the standing committee on publication and Sabbath school work submitted by Dr. E. W. DuBose, Spartanburg, S. C., the general assembly ordered that the last Sunday in January be designated as "Young People's Day."

Appointment of an ad interim committee to study the question of organization of young people's work was declined as an advisory council representing all the synods is now considering the problem. Its findings will be submitted to the next assembly.

The formation of a separate executive committee for societies of Christian Endeavor also was disapproved.

CHAMBER JOINS MOVE
FOR NEW POSTOFFICE

Directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday to co-operate with city officials, the Retail Merchants' association, and other bodies in efforts to obtain an appropriation for a new federal building here. Coincident with this action of the chamber, resolutions urging the treasury and postoffice departments to increase postal facilities were adopted by the Georgia chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

The chamber had contemplated sending a delegation to Washington in the interest of the move, but has since determined it would be wiser to combine all agencies and influence Mayor Walter A. Sims to take up the matter with government officials in connection with the Georgia architects' association adopted by the Georgia architects "not only impedes the efficiency of the department at the present time of the department but will ever increasingly interfere with the federal work and with the constant growth of the city."

Nokol
AUTOMATIC OIL HEATING FOR HOMES

NOW!

the new Silent NOKOL

automatic oil heat

Most sensational comfort-development in the history of OIL HEAT

See it in operation today—

Find out how noise has been cut to the vanishing point; how all past records of home heating comfort are now surpassed.

THIS is the biggest development in oil heat since oil heat started. Facts, not words, make it so. The proof is right here in our showroom today: the new Silent Nokol, actually operating—for you to see.

The "noise bogey" killed

By perfection of a simple principle, the new Silent NOKOL cuts noise to the vanishing point. Literally, exactly that.

It is an important betterment—yet made without the slightest sacrifice of that high efficiency which has given Nokol a 9-year record for lowest operating cost.

TO MEN AND WOMEN

NOKOL gave automatic oil heat to the American Home a little less than a decade ago—several years before others followed it into the field. Building on satisfaction of its users.

More homes are equipped with NOKOL today than with any other automatic oil heating service. At the end of 1925 more than twenty-two million dollars was invested in NOKOL equipment in American homes, and this service had been extended into seven foreign countries. During the first four months of 1926, NOKOL sales to home owners ran 76% ahead of 1925's first four months or at a rate of more than three million dollars' increase in this year's business over last year's.

These purchasers—thinking men and women, concerned for health, comfort, and happiness of their families—made this investment possible. Its success and permanency are founded on tribute paid by a grateful public to the builders of NOKOL.

For periods up to nine years, 29,000 homes have had Nokol comfort—and have found it an economy, too.

Now the new Silent Nokol provides even greater comfort—at even lower cost! The reduction, frankly, is not great. It couldn't be—in view of the low-cost records NOKOL has made for nine years.

This is your chance to answer—for all time—your own questions about automatic oil heat for the home.

1. Is it noisy?
2. Is it a high cost luxury, for the rich only?
3. Is a lot of expert attention required to get comfort?

Does it provide ample heat?

If you have other questions, you'll find them, too, answered now.

Not a trace of odor

There never has been, never will be the slightest trace of odor—inside or outside a Nokol-heated home. Because NOKOL does not have to burn cheap, foul-smelling oil in order to deliver economical heat.

Some burners do have to use such inferior fuel. And an unavoidable, unpleasant odor is but one of the disappointments in such an investment. Even then they do not cannot equal Nokol economy.

The principal reason is NOKOL's famous combustion chamber—a self-contained part of the burner, entirely independent of your heating plant. It equips your furnace or boiler for oil-burning, as the old grate equipped it for coal-burning; does away with brickwork and other makeshift alterations; enables Nokol to burn the only proper kind of oil for automatic heat in a home—at reasonable cost.

In the new Silent NOKOL this vital combustion chamber has been given even greater effectiveness.

Come see it—in operation today

Suppose this announced some amazing new radio set—or a beautiful new-model automobile. You'd see it. Home comfort for your family is at least as important.

So come in. Find out what oil heat can be and can do for you today. See the new Silent NOKOL in operation. Listen to it. Examine it. Ask questions.

Then, if you're interested that far, we'll explain the unusual new purchase plan: installation made for a small payment down; nothing more to pay till October 1st; then a full year for the balance. And comfort for a lifetime is yours.

NOTE THIS IMPORTANT FACT: NOKOL is one of the few automatic oil burners made in adequate range of sizes to fit the wide range of heating-plant sizes. Each installation is individually fitted to its particular furnace or boiler, its particular home or building.

Come in today. We can sincerely assure you an interesting visit—a new and clearer idea of home heating comfort.

EXPRESSIONS OF ATLANTA NOKOL USERS TO THEIR FRIENDS.

"I have three of these burners installed in my residence, one for the house, one for the hotel, and one for the conservatory. Have been using same about two years and my experience warrants the opinion that they are satisfactory. Have had no trouble whatever and find that the Nokol people give excellent service and look after the equipment constantly. I gladly recommend this line of heating to anyone in need of heat, and satisfaction of its operation is very satisfactory."

HENRY C. BEINE, Vice Pres. The Citizens & Southern Bank.

"Nokol is everything I aimed for it and I would not exchange it for any on the market."

A. B. MARSHALL, Marshall & Reynolds.

"This oil system has given me entirely satisfactory and it certainly is a luxury in my home. I might mention here that I made a very close study of various systems, taking into consideration the first cost of installation, as well as operation, and I am justified in recommending the Nokol system."

L. W. ROBERT, JR., Pres. Robert & Company.

"Nokol has given entire satisfaction. I have had no trouble with it at all except in one instance when it was not the fault of the burner, and they sent out inside of fifteen minutes and had it fixed."

HENRY W. DAVIS, The Atlanta & Lumber National Bank.

He walks like a boy of sixteen

Other men envy his ability to enjoy life. They say he is "always in shape." He does it by drinking a clear, natural spring water which keeps his kidneys clean.

MODERN science teaches us that one thing is of the utmost importance if we would have health, vigor and the capacity to enjoy life. As we moderns live, frequently we overlook it. Science shows us that we must keep our kidneys cleansed of all poisons, just as we keep the intestines clean. None of us can enjoy life thoroughly if we use our energy to fight poisons.

But nature has made it easy to correct the error. Far under the beautiful Virginia Hills, Nature compounds a water that comes to the surface at Buffalo Lithia Springs. It is called Buffalo Mineral Water and for over fifty years it has been used by thousands as an ant-acid solvent and diuretic to eliminate the poisons from the body through the kidneys and bladder.

Buffalo Mineral Water is pleasant to drink. It is a clear, cool water that quenches thirst instantly—and makes you feel satisfied. In many homes it is served every day in place of ordinary water.

Today, as for the last fifty years, it is bottled at the Springs and sold by druggists and grocers everywhere. Your physician knows it—and will tell you about it gladly.

Drink a bottle of Buffalo Mineral Water today if you would feel particularly "fit" tomorrow.

Women's Council Demands Support of Chief Beavers

While James L. Beavers, reinstated chief of police after an enforced absence of 20 months, Wednesday was familiarizing himself with conditions in the department prior to issuing new orders governing operation of the force, resolutions expressing confidence in the chief and asking the police committee of council to accede to his recommendations in the name of a new assistant chief were passed by the Atlanta Council of Women.

Mrs. J. E. Andrews, whose exposure of liquor drinking by members of council stirred Atlanta several weeks ago, is president of the organization which has gone officially on record as supporting the chief in his drive against "vice and undesirables."

Mrs. Marvin Williams, secretary of the council, read an editorial endorsing the stand of the council in the recent probe of alleged councilmanic drinking which appeared in the Columbia (S. C.) State, and letters and telegrams from many parts of the state along the same line also were read.

"We want it officially understood that this council is endorsing the candidacy of no one but that we are still active against vice and an undesirable element," Mrs. Andrews said in introducing the resolutions asking "full and unstinted support of the chief in the conduct of his office."

"We believe that Chief Beavers would be greatly handicapped by the naming of an assistant chief or other officers in whom he has no confidence and who would not carry out his policies. And that is the reason for our action in passing the resolution."

The resolutions passed by the council follow:

"Resolved, That we, the Civic Council of Women, have complete and implicit confidence in the purposes of Police Chief James L. Beavers to enforce the law and to administer the police department of this city in a clean manner.

"We further believe that if he is permitted he is able and willing to rid the city of Atlanta of all vicious and criminal elements.

"Resolved further, That we know Chief Beavers is helpless to do any of those things unless he is permitted to nominate and the police committee confirm officers and men in the department in whom Chief Beavers has confidence in carrying out his orders and policies.

"Resolved further, That we demand that the police committee shall elect only officers and employees in the department who are nominated by Chief Beavers.

"Resolved further, That we will construe an attempt on the part of the police committee to put men in office other than those nominated by Chief Beavers to be a deliberate purpose on the part of the committee to make ineffective the efforts of Chief Beavers.

"We fully know that Chief Beavers cannot be held responsible for the acts of men who are put in office over his objection and in whom he has no confidence."

About 25 women representing women's organizations of the city were present at the meeting.

Chief Beavers Wednesday declined to intimate or even discuss whom he would nominate for the post of assistant chief, a position held temporarily by Acting Assistant Chief C. P. Connally. In addition to Chief Connally, Captains A. J. Holcomb and J. C. Fain and former Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole have been mentioned for the job.

Canvass of members of the police committee of city council Wednesday practically dissipated rumors of a call meeting of the police committee to select the assistant chief.

William R. Hartsfield, chairman of the committee; Councilman J. T. Osburn, member of the committee, and Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, the one in which Chief Beavers lives, visited Chief Beavers at his office Wednesday. Committee members and Mr. Ford assured the chief of their support and cooperation.

TRENTON POLICE SEEK 'BLUEBEARD' CABIN IN WOODS

Trenton, N. J., May 26.—(AP)—Monmouth County Prosecutor John J. Quinn today ordered a thorough search of the isolated cabin of Frank Lipshitz, Perinville hermit, who was identified as the assailant of a 13-year-old Perinville schoolgirl late Thursday.

Discovery of a dress and women's undergarments in Lipshitz's hovel leads to the fear that the girl was not the only victim of the young recluse. After the girl identified him, the story spread that the woodman's hut was the headquarters of a "Bluebeard."

COLONEL MITCHELL FINED IN RUM CASE

Birmingham, Ala., May 26.—(AP)—Colonel W. E. Mitchell, vice president of the Alabama Power company, was fined $50 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possessing liquor in the recorder's court. The case was originally scheduled for Wednesday but was called out of turn at the defendant's request, it was learned.

The two detectives who raided Colonel Mitchell's home Sunday did not appear at court. Last night, City Detective Alexander announced that a quantity of liquor was seized in the raid.

According to Detective Alexander the colonel's home was raided as the result of a "tip" received by authorities early Sunday morning.

Thompson Favored As New Moderator For Presbyterians

Baltimore, May 26.—(AP)—The Presbyterian church's fundamental-modernist controversy is expected to reach a climax tomorrow when the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the U. S. A. elects its moderator, with brewing with some warmth tonight among pre-assembly groups of delegates.

The fundamental-liberal demartion is expected to be evident in the voting for moderator, even though both candidates for the moderatorship are recognized fundamentalists. Dr. William O. Thompson, of Columbus, Ohio, the liberal-supporter, candidate, has in informal pre-election canvasses thus far held a preponderance of the sentiment over Dr. Lapaley A. McAfee, of Berkeley, Calif. Dr. McAfee, who is pastor of the First Church of Berkeley, is expected to draw his support pretty exclusively from the fundamentalist section. Dr. Thompson is president of the World Sunday School association and a former president of Ohio State university.

Outside of the contest for the moderatorship, indications are that chief interest in the fundamental-liberal skirmish will be focused on the report of the committee of fifteen appointed a year ago to map out a program of peace between the factions.

Balloting for moderator will take place tomorrow at the first general assembly session, scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, eastern standard time. Thereafter two general assembly sessions will be held daily. The assembly will continue until June 2.

American Ban Lifted for Exiled Alien Veterans

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, May 26.—President Coolidge today signed the Reed-Johnson bill providing for the admission into the United States of alien war veterans now exiled overseas because of the restrictions of the immigration laws.

It is estimated that from 5,000 to 10,000 war veterans with their wives and children will be affected by the president's action.

Under the provisions of this measure, all immigrants not ineligible to citizenship who served in the United States forces overseas and were honorably discharged, will be allowed to enter the United States on a non-quota immigration visa. The veteran is permitted to bring his wife and unmarried children under 18 years of age. This privilege expires in two years.

Another section of the bill supplements the naturalization laws by allowing these returning veterans and other veterans who neglected to take out citizenship papers following their discharge, to become American citizens by the simple process of filing an application with the courts. This provision restores temporarily the naturalization privileges accorded all alien veterans before the armistice.

KEYES PLANS TO ACT IN McPHERSON CASE

Los Angeles, May 26.—(AP)—District Attorney Asa Keyes announced today that if the body of Almee Semple McPherson, missing evangelist, who disappeared at Ocean Park beach last Tuesday, did not come ashore by tomorrow, he would start a vigorous investigation of the case.

Kenneth G. Ormiston, formerly radio operator at Mrs. McPherson's temple and one of her close friends, would be sought for questioning as one of the first moves, Keyes said.

Ormiston superintended installation of the Angelus Temple Radio station in 1923 and operated it until a few months ago. On January 23 he disappeared, according to his wife. His automobile was traced to Pasadena, where it was abandoned. Later Ormiston appeared in Seattle as an automobile salesman.

Friends of Ormiston report him as having returned to Los Angeles as late as two weeks ago, but lately all trace of him has been lost.

Keyes stated that he had been impelled to enter the case by scores of letters received at his office, urging a thorough investigation of Mrs. McPherson's disappearance.

RECOVER STOLEN CAR; FIND SWITCH KEY TO ANOTHER

Hopes of recovering Councilman Cecil G. Allen's automobile which was stolen last Thursday night, were revived Wednesday afternoon when Detective A. Lamar Poole and St. J. Smith found the switch key to the second ward councilman's car in possession of R. L. Wallace, who gave a Bradley street address, and who was arrested by the officers while operating another stolen car, police records show.

Wallace was arrested at Whitehall and Garnett streets, Wednesday afternoon in an expensive sedan, which was stolen from M. P. Ogden of the Howard theater while parked on North Pryor street near the theater some time ago, according to the officers. Two gallons of liquor were found in the car and officers believe that Wallace has been transporting liquor in the car since it was stolen.

Detective Poole and Smith arrested R. L. Wallace and his brother M. P. Wallace in April in connection with the theft of a car belonging to J. I. Case and company on Stewart avenue. The Wallace brothers were indicted by the Fulton grand jury on April 27, and on April 27, M. P. Wallace entered a plea of guilty and took the blame, exonerating his brother, R. L. Wallace, whereupon the case against R. L. Wallace was nolle prossed. M. P. Wallace was given a sentence from one and one-half to three years.

FIDDLER'S WISH TO DIE PLAYING IS GRATIFIED

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, Ind., May 26.—The wish of Richard Henry Greenwood, age 90, civil war veteran and father of Arthur H. Greenwood, second district representative in congress, that he would die while playing his violin, was gratified today.

Mr. Greenwood was an "old time fiddler" and took great delight in playing the old tunes. His son, Harry, with whom he lived at Elmore, attracted by the sudden ceasing of his father's music, turned and saw the violin fall from his hands.

The funeral is being delayed until the arrival of Mr. Greenwood from Washington.

Dresses Just for Home Wear Offered in Wellborn Shops

What is of more interest to the average man than a good meal well cooked, daintily served? Just one thing—and no man will deny it! That is the wife becomingly dressed in an attractive frock suited for the home.

Never before in the history of Atlanta has anyone conceived the idea of an exclusive dress shop where dresses for the home are featured!

J. V. Wellborn has done this in planning the opening of his dress shops in Atlanta! Wisely, he has featured dresses for the home at one of the two shops he recently opened here. Think of it—shops filled with sweet home dresses!

His store at 2 South Broad street, corner of Plaza way, is filled with an excellent line of pongee silks, French stripes, Belgian linens, prints, solid and bordered cottons and a great variety of others, many of them very attractive yet costing less than $2. All are neat, chic, suitable for home, porch or other high-purposes, but, according to the Pura Water company, there is an abundant, convenient and inexpensive supply of high-grade pure and sparkling drinking water right here at home. This is High Rock spring water, which the Pura company has acquired the rights to bottle and distribute. High Rock has been sold in Atlanta in a limited way for a number of years and many Atlanta homes know of its excellence.

High Rock spring is located in Ormeau, near Atlanta, and is not an ordinary surface spring of doubtful character, but it may be called an artesian spring, which flows from some deep source upward through solid rock into a sanitary basin of concrete and is bottled in a clean manner. The water, as shown by a chemical analysis which will be furnished upon request, is a rare combination of health-giving minerals, according to many Atlanta people, and the state geological department, is not only a clear, summing anything, is about 100 per cent efficient. "But nothing could be further from the truth. The very presence of smoke or soot shows that combustion is turning of fuel to heat—is only partly done. Even without that 'symptom' most combustion of fuel, in home-heating is grossly inefficient. "So, there you are. When you have efficient combustion of fuel, you can employ this inert gas as we have done—which makes combustion even more thorough than before, and silent at the same moment."

Furniture House Helps Young Housekeepers

"This is the time of year when June brides and young people start in housekeeping and do most of their furniture buying," J. L. Satterwhite, president and general manager of the Satterwhite Furniture company, 292 Peachtree street, said Wednesday.

"We are favored with an extra large share of this business as we are known to have everything the young folks need in housekeeping," added Mr. Satterwhite.

The Satterwhite Furniture company carries an extra large stock of fine furniture and almost any article that is seen in the up-to-date modern home can be found there. Beautiful furniture for the parlor is here in the very latest styles. Kitchen pieces also are here at all prices.

"We just naturally want to help these young people get along," said Mr. Satterwhite and we cooperate with them. When they need it, we give them very liberal terms to pay for what they buy in this big furniture store and is proving a splendid acquisition to the business.

Fine Table Water Found Right Here in Atlanta

Many people who can afford and believe in using the best, buy imported and other high-priced water for the table and other home purposes, but, according to the Pura Water company, there is an abundant, convenient and inexpensive supply of high-grade pure and sparkling drinking water right here at home. Improvement seen this summer in

All indications point to greatly improved, radio reception this summer—better and more powerful broadcast stations, better class programs from the smaller stations, more even distribution of the comparative high-powered stations—and considerable improvement in receiving apparatus. Station owners and receiving set makers are giving considerable time and effort to locate and remedy those conditions that have hindered radio transmission and reception during the summer months—and here, made great progress, though much remains to be done. The greatest obstacle to summer reception is—and has been—static interference, which feature is holding the attention of scientists and radio engineers and experimenters at this time and there is every reason to believe that some relief may be expected soon.

At this time the most effective way of overcoming static interference is the use of extremely high power—which, on account of its power alone, seems to break through the interfering element and in most cases "come in" as well in summer as in winter. In spite of the fact that such power creates "local" interference in its immediate neighborhood, the government continues to allow its use in order that the most people may continue to enjoy radio through the summer.

J. T. Miller, of the firm of Miller-Blankenship company, Atlanta dealers for Sparton and Bromer-Tully radio receivers, expresses himself thusly regarding the situation: "We have noticed improvement in the quality of summer programs and find that there are more nearby stations and chain book-ups to give practically every fan a good evening's entertainment whenever he feels like listening in. Receiving sets, too, show considerable improvement over last season's product in that through superior design and workmanship there has been effected an increase of the 'signal-static' ratio, great improvement in tonal qualities and advances made in regard to selectivity and volume. The Miller-Blankenship Co., maintain that radio reception is actually better this summer than it was in the winter two or three years ago and they invite the doubting fan to give them an opportunity to prove this content.

BATTED BALL
HITS FAN'S NOSE,
HE GETS $3,500
St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—(AP)—A jury, only two of whom had ever played baseball, today returned a verdict awarding Irwin Hayes, a chauffeur $3,500 for a broken nose he sustained last year when a home run from the bat of Jim Bottomley, star first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, struck him. At the time Hayes was struck he was sitting in the right field bleachers at Sportsmans park. A moment before he had been an ardent fan and had yelled with much gusto as Bottomley came to bat: "Smack it this way, Jim! smack it right at me."

The suit, originally for $7,500, was against the St. Louis National league ball club.

sparkling water of exceptional purity, but has a decided tonic effect when used freely. Some state positively that the water has cured them of indigestion and kindred acid troubles. The Rock Spring water is bottled and delivered fresh every day throughout Atlanta and suburbs in both five-gallon demijohns and one-half gallon bottles, six to a case, which are very convenient for handling in and out of the refrigerator, and icing expense is not thereby increased.

In order to introduce High Rock spring water more generally to Atlanta people, a five-gallon bottle will be given free of charge to anyone who has not tried the water and who calls for it at the plant, 21 Piedmont avenue, within the next week. This company also bottles and delivers Pura Water (triple-distilled and aerated) which has been very popular in Atlanta for many years as a drinking water, in home and office, as well as Waukesha Lithia water, which is recommended especially for stomach, kidney and intestinal disorders.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Four persons were badly shaken up and bruised in a series of automobile accidents Wednesday, according to police reports.

J. M. Orr, 37, of Haverhill, was cut about the legs and arms in an automobile collision on Ormond street Wednesday afternoon, according to Call Officers J. G. Bowman and L. P. Higgins, who investigated. The driver of the car which collided with Orr's car was Sam Jones, negro, of 218 Parson street, police records show. Orr was taken to Grady hospital where his injuries were treated and he was allowed to return home later in the night.

C. L. Graham, 19, of 210 West Peachtree street, was taken to Grady hospital with the left side of his face and left leg badly lacerated as a result of an automobile accident at North avenue and North Jackson street. According to information given by motorcycle officers Herman Clay and C. J. Schilling, Graham ran into the street to catch a street car and was knocked down by an automobile driven by Preston Elliot, negro. After his injuries were treated Graham was allowed to return home.

James Maddox, six years old, and his 3-year-old sister, Gladys May Maddox, were knocked down by an automobile almost in front of their home at 188 Ormond street late Wednesday afternoon. The injured children were taken to Grady by the driver of the car which struck them, who then went to police station to report the accident.

Bathtub Girl Is Storm Center At Carroll Trial

New York, May 26.—(AP)—Joyce Hawley, 17-year-old showgirl, who, by her own testimony, was the bathtub girl of Earl Carroll's party in his theater on Washington's birthday, testified the storm center of testimony at Carroll's perjury trial today.

Testimony and summation were concluded late today. Judge Goddard will charge the jury Thursday, and then that body will decide whether Carroll told the truth when he said at a grand jury investigation of his party that no one sat in a bathtub and no liquor was served.

Miss Hawley, the government's chief witness, has testified she sat in the tub undressed and that she was drunk at the time on liquor served her in the theater.

Eight defense witnesses testified today. Augustus Thomas, playwright, and Al Jolson, blackface comedian, testified to a good opinion of the producer's veracity and a number of Carroll's associates sought to prove that Miss Hawley's testimony had been given in revenge because Carroll would not give her money she demanded.

Defense witnesses testified that after the bathtub incident the showgirl demanded $1,000 and promised to give any testimony desired before the grand jury if she were paid. She had previously testified that she had been offered $320 by Chris Scife, Carroll's assistant, if she would tell the grand jury that there was no wine at the party.

Scife today admitted that he had complete charge of the bathtub at the party and had filled it about six times. He said he put ginger ale in it. He said Miss Hawley had come to him, demanding money, and the day before she was to testify, he said, she told him that "Carroll" had refused to deal with her.

A card was introduced, made out when she applied for a job in Carroll's Vanities. This recorded that she claimed to be 20 and to have been born in Madison, Wis., instead of Chicago, as she had said in court. United States Attorney Buckner then entered her birth certificate, showing that her testimony, and not her assertions as recorded on the card, were correct.

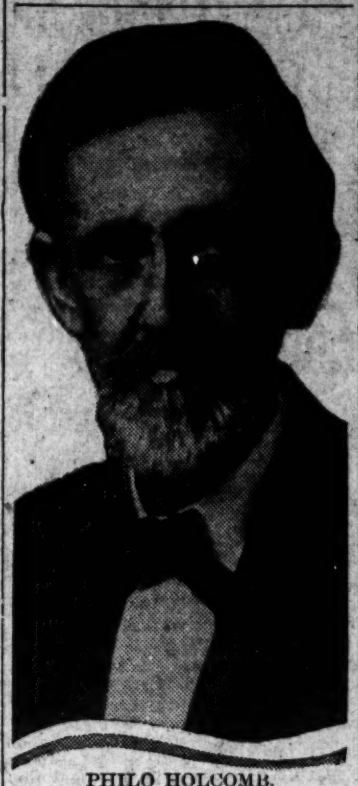

On the face of the card she was classed as "D. D." but on the reverse was the notation "D. D." declared to mean "Dumb Dora." The stage manager explained that he merely meant she was "dumb" in a theatrical way.

Apartment Burglarized.

The apartment of Mrs. B. T. Weaver, of 2052 Peachtree road, was entered by burglars early Wednesday morning and a silver mesh bag containing $6 and several valuable papers were taken, according to police reports.

MARINES LAUDED BY JUSTICE BECK

Tribute to the United States marines as the foremost fighting unit in the world was paid last night at the organization meeting of the Marcus W. Beck, Jr., detachment, Marine Corps league, by Justice Marcus W. Beck, of the supreme court of Georgia. Justice Beck is the father of the young marine, killed in Balleau Wood, for whom the detachment is named.

Justice Beck traced the history of marines from the days of ancient Rome to the present day, pointing out that their lineage and heritage is one of unrelenting glory. "No longer is it necessary to say," said Justice Beck, "that the marines have landed and have the situation well in hand. It just needs to be said that the marines have landed. The rest is understood."

Justice Beck recalled that the United States marine corps antedates the United States in birth, the organization having been formed about two years prior to the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Arrangements were made to decorate the graves of four marines buried in Georgia on Sunday, Decoration day. A detachment in uniform will accompany Justice Beck to the tomb of his son at Jackson, Ga., where a "music" will blow "Taps." Another committee will visit the graves of the other three buried in Atlanta cemeteries. Captain Savage was named as chairman of this committee.

The following temporary officers were elected at last night's meeting, which was held at the local recruiting headquarters, 59 South Forsyth street:

WM. J. BRYAN, JR., DEFENDS LAW IN SCOPES CASE

Nashville, Tenn., May 26.—(AP)—William Jennings Bryan, Jr., in a brief forwarded here today to be filed with the supreme court, in the Scopes evolution case, declared the Tennessee anti-evolution act a "proper and valid exercise of the police power of the state of Tennessee under its constitution and the constitution of the United States."

"It therefore follows," says the brief, "that the assignment of errors and each of them are without merit" and asks that the judgment of the lower court, convicting Scopes of violating the law, be sustained.

Mr. Bryan maintains that "the indictment as drawn was sufficient," which, with proper exercise of police powers, he held the two issues in the case.

INDIANA G. O. P. PLANS TO IGNORE SENATORS' REQUEST

Indianapolis, May 26.—(AP)—The resolution committee of the republican state convention, which will meet here Thursday, has decided to ignore the request of United States Senators James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson that the state platform specifically commend them for voting against American withdrawal from the world court, it was learned tonight.

Party leaders who will have charge of compiling the report, decided instead to insert in the platform endorsing the senators generally, but not make specific reference to the world court.

Mother Prays for Death Of Twins Joined Together

MEDICAL BABIES APPARENTLY STRONGER

(By Special Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—While their mother prays that they may die, Lucy and Beale Medich, the five-day-old twins who are joined together at the abdomen, today appeared to be growing stronger under the scrutiny of 100 surgeons and physicians.

The Medich babies are joined together as were the Jones twins who were born in Tipton county, Indiana, in 1889 and who lived two years. Physicians say these two may live longer than that, as X-ray photographs show the organs fully developed and robust. They may even learn to walk.

Each has independent heart and lungs. One sleeps while the other is eating.

No operation for the separation of twins joined in any manner has ever been performed successfully. Physicians say the attempt in this case undoubtedly would result fatally for both.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas S. Medich, the parents, while an effort was made to save the life of one by separation, were joined hip to hip.

While the Medich babies have been called Siamese twins, they are not joined as were Chang and Eng. These babies are joined at the abdomen and are face to face. The Siamese twins were joined at the chest by a bony band four inches long. Daisy and Violet Hilton, who recently appeared in vaudeville and who are distinguished by their accomplishments, are joined by a bony band at the base of the spine. The Blasek twins of Chicago, Rosa and Joseph, who died after they became adults, when an effort was made to save the life of one by separation, were joined hip to hip.

SURVEY SHOWS APRIL PRICES WERE LOWER

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—A further reduction in the general price level in April accompanied by a slight drain in the activity of both industry and trade was reported today by the federal reserve board.

Despite a drop in wholesale commodity prices, increases were noted in the farm products and food groups which had been declining for several months. The greatest price drains were in clothing materials.

Slight increases in production of lumber and pig iron last month were more than offset by declines in the output of other industries, particularly steel ingots and textile goods. Automobile production again continued in large volume.

The drop in production generally was accompanied by slight declines in factory employment and pay rolls.

CRAWFORD GIVEN FIVE-YEAR TERM IN O'DAY MURDER

Austin, Texas, May 26.—(AP)—William Lester Crawford, young Dallas attorney, must serve a five-year prison sentence for killing Paul O'Day, a fellow attorney, the Texas court of criminal appeals decided here today. The court affirmed a manslaughter conviction from Dallas.

O'Day was at one time county attorney at Springfield, Mo. He was born in Oswego, Kansas, and educated at Georgetown, Kentucky.

The killing, according to Crawford, was caused by statements in a legal brief prepared by O'Day, which the defendant contended reflected on his mother, Mrs. Kate Lester-Crawford. The brief was filed in a case involving the will of Crawford's father.

O'Day was shot by Crawford on September 11, 1924, as the former entered an elevator in a downtown building, the defendant using a shotgun.

Is 60 Miles an hour fast enough?

Then, here's a performance "thrill" you'll never forget

HERE is a remarkable new-type car, different in performance, comfort and ease of driving from anything you have ever known before.

It is a complete new departure in automobile engineering.

The whole car is designed as an integral harmonious unit. All parts are co-related with other parts. It is unit-engineered to meet modern performance standards.

You can drive the Overland Six hour after hour at high speed without wear and tear on the engine. It was designed for an average road speed of 45 to 50 miles an hour.

Its low gravity center gives you a feeling of security never found in any car of this type before. Without sideway or slipping or wandering... the car fairly hugs the road.

Buy a Modern Car

The radical difference between the Overland Six and other cars built today is this new-type of unit-engineering.

It is an actual fact that 8 out of every 10 cars now being sold in the Overland Six price class were designed anywhere from 5 to 12 years ago. Their modern bodies conceal chassis engineering that is obsolete and antiquated in fundamental design.

But today the Overland Six has established an entirely new set of performance standards.

This big sturdy Six will out-pull, out-run and out-perform anything else of its size, or weight, or price-class.

It is a car of exceptional comfort. The big, broad door openings are 32 1/2 inches wide. You can get in or out with the utmost ease.

Seats are wide, luxuriously comfortable. There is more cubic feet of inside space than in any car of this price... with plenty of room for five full-size passengers. Room to stretch your legs without feeling cramped or crowded.

The rear springs are extra long... and underlung. They are 52 inches long and are made of Chrome Vanadium Steel... a costly metal, but it's the best for absorbing the jolts and jars of the road.

Nothing has been spared to make this car a positive comfort-revelation.

Simply in fairness to yourself, see this wonderful car.

POLITICAL FEUDS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Birmingham, Ala., May 26.—(AP)—Two women companions of John D. Jones when he was slain last night were believed to hold the key to the mystery of Jones' death, and efforts were tonight centered by authorities to ascertain their identity. While a frantic search was being conducted for the women who are wanted as witnesses, officers encountered a mass of cross currents in local politics and law enforcement.

Jones, a state law enforcement officer and brother of James M. Jones, Jr., president of the Birmingham city commission, was shot to death on the Montgomery highway last midnight by Byron Shirley and Dewey Barrett, deputy sheriffs. Shirley is the son of Sheriff Thomas J. Shirley and Barrett is a nephew of the sheriff.

While several state and county officers were endeavoring to arrive at the facts connected with the shooting, it was announced that the grand jury would take a hand and attempt to unravel an alleged personal feud between Jones and the two men who are believed to have been at least indirectly responsible for the killing.

Were Close Friends.

Jones and Byron Shirley were said to have been close personal friends and official "buddies" before Jones was removed as a deputy sheriff last fall. They were also close in the affairs of a secret society, their friends disclosed. A political feud dating from Jones' removal from the sheriff's office was said to have gathered momentum through personal disagreements, and it was an open secret about the county building that the two men had become enemies. This enmity is said to have spread into politics, involving President James M. Jones, Jr., in his race for the city commission last year.

While the inquiry proceeded from several angles and was being conducted by different branches of the government, there appeared a concerted effort to cover the identity of two women who were companions of Jones and Deputy Sheriff J. C. Tate, when Jones was slain. These women disappeared before officers arrived to claim Jones' body, which was found early today lying in the Montgomery highway, eight miles south of Birmingham. If Tate divulged the identity of the women to coroner Russum, that officer has not made the fact known. From other official quarters came the same reply: "We do not know who the women are." Jones was a married man as is Tate. Tate resigned at noon. His resignation was promptly accepted by Sheriff Shirley.

Shot in Self-Defense.

Conflicting reports have reached Coroner Russum concerning the killing. One of these statements said that Barrett and Shirley shot in self-defense while another report was to the effect that Jones was shot without warning. Sifting a mass of details, the coroner had received word that Barrett and Shirley had followed Jones and his party for some distance on the highway and that Jones stopped and accosted Barrett and Shirley. After shooting Jones, Barrett and Shirley thought they were chasing a "liquor car." The coroner was endeavoring to determine whether Barrett and Shirley knew the occupants of the forward car before Jones stopped and accosted them. Six bullets were found in Jones' body. Jones' pistol lay by his side, and had not been fired.

Coroner Russum has postponed a formal inquest until President J. M. Jones can attend, probably Friday. City Hall will be closed tomorrow afternoon, during the funeral of John D. Jones, as a mark of respect to the commission president.

After shooting Jones, Barrett and Shirley are said to have hurried to Birmingham leaving Jones dying on the highway. They surrendered later at the office of the sheriff and have since been detained in the sheriff's quarters of the jail. Pending the coroner's inquest they are held nominally on a charge of murder.

Kennedy and L. M. Nobody, whose arguments concerning nothing in particular to cover the identity of the women, are a black-face comedian of great ability. Other acts in the "Acrobatic Revue of 1926," Raymond Bond with Helen Sullivan in "Remnants," Konoan, the Japanese Flapper, George Anthony and Marcelle, European instrumentalists.

The Rialto.

"Sea Horses" with Jack Holt and Florence Vidor as the stars, and Harold Lloyd "Now or Never," a re-issue, are featured on the Rialto theater's screen program this week.

No effort, no expense was spared in making "Sea Horses" the kind of titanic spectacle-melodrama the story deserved. So realistically has Allan Dwan produced it, you can almost breathe the fresh sea air coming over the starboard bow, almost feel the deadly heat of the tropics, almost hear the soft padding of the natives' feet through the jungles.

The Howard Theater.

In producing his second public presentation, "A Garden Festival," which is playing at the greater Howard theater this week, Francis Campbell employed as his setting a celebrated art masterpiece and then literally brought it to life. The painting, reproduced in a frame which covers nearly the entire stage, is that by Watteau, from which Mr. Campbell's stage presentation derives its title.

Pert, pretty, peppy, snappy, talented, happy and "bound to get there," those are the impressions which remain with one on meeting Louise Brooks, W. C. Fields' lady in "It's the Old Army Game," which is this week's feature screen attraction. She is just a bit more than a half-packed with wit and humor, those few years than an ordinary person finds in a lifetime.

The Metropolitan.

Modern methods of sleuthing are shown on the screen at the Metropolitan theater this week in "Her Second Chance," with Anna Q. Nilsson in the leading feminine role.

The method shown should not be too closely followed by the amateur detective, advises from Hollywood state, as the sleuth in the picture is Charlie Murray, a well-known comic. It is thought that some of his tactics are calculated rather to get a laugh than to get a lawbreaker.

Adapted from the famous novel by Mrs. Wilton Wood, "Her Second Chance" concerns the fate of a Kentucky mountain girl who is sent to prison for an offense that she never really committed with a man.

On the stage this week is the Ned Wayburn production, "Charlestonians," accompanied by the Charleston concert, Enrico Leide and his orchestra offer Bob Earle in "My Pal, Jerry."

SUZANNE MAY BEN LEONARD MEET S. ACE WILL RETURN NEXT MONTH TO FIGHT RING

Paris, May 26.—(AP)—There is a strong possibility that the two queens of the tennis world—Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills—will meet next in the finals of the international hard court championship which begins June 2.

While no definite announcement has been made that Miss Lenglen has reconsidered her first decision not to play in the singles in any tournament until Wimbledon, her health has improved so rapidly in recent weeks that she again is ready to enter the lists. Her opponent, however, has not yet decided whether she will be included in the draw for the international event which will be announced soon.

GEORGIA WOMAN DIES OF ATTACK

Brunswick, Ga., May 26.—(AP)—Following the death today of Mrs. Millie Crosby, 40, who was found brutally beaten and unconscious at her home 16 miles from here yesterday, local authorities are preparing to go before the grand jury, now in session here, to present evidence pertaining to the arrest of Arthur Burgess, negro, who was jailed on suspicion by Brunswick officers immediately after the crime.

Mrs. Crosby died at 3 o'clock this morning after regaining consciousness at the city hospital, where she was brought by local authorities who were called to the scene of the crime following the discovery of the crime by her husband.

Two stories, both conflicting, are reported to have been related to the local authorities by Crosby and the negro.

According to the husband the negro, who lives nearby, came to his house early yesterday and told him a man who wanted to sell logs was then at a small creek landing nearby and wanted to see Crosby. Crosby said she left the house and went to the creek, but found no man nor log there. When he returned, he said, he found his wife in a pool of blood, and he called the neighbors and they, in turn, called the Brunswick police.

The negro, who is employed at a cross cutting place near his home, was an hour late to his work yesterday and reported to his boss that he "felt ill." He said he got up feeling ill and took a drink of whisky, and he started to work and felt so bad he went up a nearby loft and lay down. His employer, who was investigating, found a coat in the loft referred to and evidence that it had been occupied a few hours before.

The negro denies having been at Crosby's house yesterday. He said Mr. Crosby knew he had told him of the log seller, but that this happened several days ago and that the man who wanted to buy the logs was at the creek landing Monday morning, and not yesterday.

It is not believed a coroner's inquest will be held pending the outcome of the action before the grand jury.

ROME TOT DIES WHEN CLOTHES CATCH ON FIRE

Rome, Ga., May 26.—(AP)—Dorothy Epps, three and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Epps of this city, died last night at a hospital from burns received when her clothing became ignited from matches with which she was playing.

Frightened by the flames, the child leaped into bed. Isaac Epps, 13, extinguished the flames with a bucket of water, but not before the child had been fatally burned.

American Troops Again at Grips With Moro Bands

San Francisco, May 26.—(AP)—For the third time within a year the American authority in the Philippine Islands is at grips with the outlaw Moro bands of Lano district, island of Mindanao, and a campaign is under way designed to wipe out the upland forest dwellers from which the Moros have harried the peaceful country around them.

Latest dispatches from Manila report the destruction of two of five fortresses held by the Moros, with 200 soldiers of the Philippine constabulary, under Colonel Luther B. Stevens, continuing operations against the remaining three centers of resistance. Two constabulary soldiers have been killed and eight wounded, while native reports place the Moro losses at 40 killed.

The latest campaign of extermination, those preceding it was ordered only after attempts to induce the outlaws to make peaceful submission had failed. Months of depredations and wrong for the Lano inhabitants preceded Governor General Wood's order to move in force against the outlaws.

The Moros are Moslems, many of them extreme fanatics and religious hatred enters into their hostility to the Christian Filipinos around them. From their mountain strongholds they carry on a series of predatory raids on the peaceful natives and guerrilla excursions against the constabulary. They carry on feuds of revenge against the constabulary, recruited chiefly from the Christian natives of the island.

CUBAN ARMY OFFICER IS WOUNDED BY BOMB

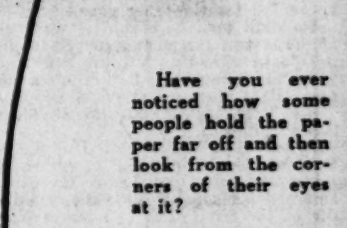

Havana, May 26.—(AP)—Colonel Amiel, of the Cuban army, was slightly wounded when a bomb, found earlier in the day on the tracks of the Cuban railroad, exploded. The bomb was discovered near Santa Clara, the engineer being able to stop the train in time. At the Camaguey barracks it exploded, while Colonel Amiel and other officers were examining it.

The Cuban railroad employees have been on strike for six weeks. The trains were manned by inspectors and strike breakers under the protection of army guards.

A bomb was exploded on a train near Guaymas yesterday, wrecking one end of a coach. A passenger was seriously injured.

NEGRO GETS LIFE AT MURDER TRIAL

Golden Bell, negro, charged with the murder on April 23 of Jackie Lee, alias Lew Leonard, negro, was found guilty by a jury with a recommendation to mercy in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court today.

Lee was shot and almost instantly killed on April 23 near the intersection of Elliott and Mitchell streets.

The state contended that Bell rode the streets of Atlanta in an effort to find Lee, who it was charged, was a confidante of Bell.

The shooting occurred, it was charged, following a dispute between Lee and Bell over the spoils of a deal involving both.

Bell was represented by William Schley Howard and John T. Tyler, while Solicitor General John A. Boykin and Assistant Solicitor Ed A. Stephens prosecuted for the state.

Unofficial Move Started by Wets To Alter Dry Act

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—The unofficial house committee for modification of the Volstead act decided today to sponsor a move to revise the law to legalize the manufacture, sale and transportation of beverages "which are not in fact intoxicating" as may be determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states.

This action by the group, which comprises 60 house members, was taken at a meeting in the office of Representative Hill, republican, Maryland, who heads the organization. A resolution to carry out the proposal, approved at the meeting, recommends modification of the Volstead act as follows:

"That the federal act to enforce the eighth amendment in hereinafter modified so that the same shall not prohibit the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states."

SHIPPERS PROTEST INCREASE OF RAIL RATES IN WEST

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Arguments against proposals by western railroads to increase freight rates generally 1, this territory were sent in rapid succession today in the interstate commerce commission's western rate investigation. An railroad representative appears in support of the carriers' petition to raise livestock rates 20 per cent.

The first bit of drama thus far in the real arguments was furnished in the appearance of Representative Hudspeth, democrat, Texas, who took the commissioners back to the whooping and whip cracking days, when cattlemen drove their stock long distances to market, to emphasize what the present day stock raiser was up against.

Appearing, he said, not as a member of congress, but as himself and other cattle raisers, Mr. Hudspeth cited his own and other growers' recent experiences in resorting to the old trail driving method of shipping cattle to escape what he termed "exorbitant freight rates."

He challenged the railroads' counsel, whom he described as "cowboys," to show where any cattle grower in Texas had earned more than 3-4 per cent in the last five years and urged establishment of the pre-war level of livestock rates and removal of discriminations in the movement of sheep in double deck cars.

THIEF ROBS WOMAN ON WHITEHALL STREET

With several pedestrians looking on, a young negro boy grabbed Miss Margaret Joyner, of 905 East Lake drive, on the shoulder, and then snatched her pocketbook containing $3 and some small change about 9 o'clock Wednesday night on Whitehall street, at the south end of the viaduct.

Miss Joyner, who was accompanied by her sister, screamed and attempted to take the pocketbook away from the snatch thief. Several persons gave chase down the iron stairway but the thief escaped in the railroad yards.

LOVELY! not a Pimple

"Oh, what a beautiful skin! Not a pimple! Not a blemish. Perfectly rounded shoulders and a Venus-like back! No wonder she's popular."

"If I could only get rid of these ugly pimples, my skin would be clear and soft and dimpling, like hers—maybe people would call me lovely, too."

"You're right! The only thing that mars your beauty are those unsightly skin blemishes. Clear them away and watch eyes full of admiration turn in your direction, whenever you go. But how can I get rid of them?" you ask. What will drive the wretched things away so they won't come back?

Why, that's just exactly what S. S. S. helps Nature do. It's been clearing away pimples, blackheads and blotches for centuries. S. S. S. helps Nature build up the blood, where it's pure and healthy—then

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion
By IRENE CASTLE
Copyrighted 1926 by F. O. Beauty Features

Risk Anything
But not your precious complexion. Use a soap made to protect it

This simple rule in skin care is bringing natural charm to thousands

IN skin care, above all things, it is better to be safe than sorry. Remember this when tempted to use a probably too harsh soap on your face.

To protect your skin, use a soap made to protect it. A soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin. That is why, largely on expert advice, the world has turned to Palmolive. A soap made for ONE purpose only, to foster good complexions. A soap made by experts in beauty with 60 years of complexion study behind it.

The rule to natural loveliness is a simple one. Just the balmy olive and palm lather of Palmolive used in this way.

The daily rule in skin care...
Try for one week

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive
Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake! — so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain a cake today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois. 2167

From Berries or Cherries to Jam or Jelly In Fifteen Minutes

Do you know the new short-bell Certo method of making jams and jellies, which makes success certain? No longer need you have any fears as to the result, for the "set" is perfect every time. And the drudgery is gone, too. For instead of tedious, lengthy cooking, one or two minutes' boiling is enough when Certo is used.

This short cooking saves the bright natural color and the fresh flavor of the fruit. Besides it avoids the great waste of boiling away the juice, so that the actual cost of your jams and jellies made the Certo way is about two cents a glass less than by the tiresome old-fashioned method.

Greater ease, better jelly, lower cost—this is a combination which naturally appeals to women everywhere. A book of simple recipes for all sorts of delicious jams, jellies and marmalades, comes with each bottle of Certo.

Your grocer carries Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address Douglas-Peet Corporation, 1944 Granite building, Rochester, N. Y.—(adv.)

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

HOUSE IS ASKED TO JOIN SOUTH IN MEMORIAL DAY

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—A resolution to create a congressional commission to cooperate with city authorities of Columbus, Mississippi, for observing the 60th anniversary of the first burial at that place. This act introduced in the house today by Representative Rankin, a democrat of that state.

He said that on April 25, 1867, two years after the civil war, women of Columbus while decorating graves of the Confederate dead, also placed flowers upon the graves of union soldiers buried at that place. This act inspired, he added, nearly every state to set aside a legal holiday in memory of the civil war dead.

The commission would consist of two senators, two house members and three persons to be appointed by the president. In cooperation with Congress officials it would arrange for the proper observance and celebration to take place in that city and to procure and select a suitable marker to commemorate the origin of Memorial day. The Law of the Talon

By Louis Tracy

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

SYNOPSIS.
Jim Parks, Hudson Bay company's agent at Moose Lake, is greatly disturbed by a new item in an English paper announcing the coming marriage of Alistair Fenton to Helen Grant and referring to the prospective bridegroom as the heir presumptive of Lord Oban. The nobleman's only son, John Bridgforth Fenton, had disappeared some years before and his death is about to be presumed by law. Parks decides to leave Moose Lake and go back to England.

Arrived at Edinborough, he tells Mr. Leslie, the temporary head of the Hudson Bay company, that he is John Bridgforth Fenton. Leslie, Leslie's daughter, is a sympathetic listener to the tale, and she encourages her father to help young Fenton.

In the meantime Helen Grant is married in London to Alistair Fenton. Immediately after the ceremony she hears that John Fenton is alive and is on his way to England to claim an inheritance left him by his aunt, Lord Oban. John Fenton's father, tells Helen that his son had been dismissed from the army for cowardice under fire and "drunkness," and that he is unable to forgive him. Helen goes off to Liverpool with Alistair as planned, but she tells him that she will not live with him as his wife until the matter about John is settled to her satisfaction.

John, accompanied by his dog, Spot, arrives in England. He carries a letter of introduction to Mr. Leslie's father, a lawyer living at Wimbledon. The Leslie family him to stay with them and he accepts their hospitality. While walking through the streets of London, John meets an old army friend, Sir Arthur Frensham, who tells him that he has evidence that Fenton had been dragged by one of his men on the fatal day he refused to lead his men out of the trenches.

After leaving Frensham, John meets Miss Leslie, who has just arrived from Canada.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

A Hopeful Sign.

John told Miss Leslie he was delighted to see her. "Some emotions are too deep for words, you know," he said. "And you are looking charming. As for any loss of breath, it is not noticeable."

"Ah, you've come on a bit since you reached home. Everything is O.K., the wireless said."

"Nearly everything, thanks to you and your father."

"My goodness! What did we do?"

"You were friendly when I was in real need of friends. I shall always remember your kindness, Miss Leslie."

"Oh, is that it? So I may not call you John?"

"Indeed you may, especially if it means that I have the privilege of addressing you as Maple."

"Nix on the Maple. It's all right as a name in musical comedy, but May for me."

"All right, May. I can foresee wrinkled brows at Wimbledon, but what matter?"

"Don't worry. I give antsy spasms twenty times a day, but I believe she likes it. She thinks I'm a scream. Of course, she doesn't put it that way. She says: 'My dear, you are so impulsive. The vicar is coming to tea today, and I do hope you will not startle him.' The joke is that the vicar eggs me on. He laughs at every word I utter."

"Evidently the church has broadened out a bit since the war."

"Now, what do you mean by that? John, you're not going to be cynical and sarcastic, I hope?"

"I? Why, I was only trying to approve of your vicar."

"Well, say so, and cut out that one-act play line talk. Of course, you've gotten over the shock of your cousin's marriage and are now going to settle down into a sensible and well-to-do heirship to a baronetcy. Or is it barony? I never can remember the difference."

"It's quite easy when you know representatives of both orders. Just before we met I parted from a baronet, Sir Arthur Frensham—a splendid chap. We must arrange a date. You'll probably like him better than the vicar. He used to be one of the boys; but now breeds blue pigs and red dogs."

"Oh, I'm so glad to hear you are finding your old friends again."

Panton laughed rather harshly.

"This one found me, if you are referring to Sir Arthur," he said.

"He told me something which got the wind up rather badly, so Spot and I were going to toast in Hyde park until the gale blew over. No, I'm not going to tell you all about it now. It's up to you to discourse. I'm sure you had a good time on board ship."

"Heavenly. I had at least four nibbles, but I wasn't biting. An actor who has been married six times as good as told me I would make an acceptable seventh, so I christened him Henry the Ninth, and he was frightfully peeved, because he's rather fat."

The girl's light-hearted chatter was good for Panton. It stopped him from brooding in the revelation, nebulous though it was, had roused again the furies which the pleasant life of Wimbledon and the lack of hostility on the part of his father were stilling into quiescence. Aunt Louie did not live up to the mid-Victorian standard. She was delighted to hear how the two had met in London.

"I always say that the most unlikely things happen in the west end," she vowed. "The other day, outside St. George's hospital, I ran into my kitchen maid wearing my best new fur tie, and I was so flurried that the king himself nearly rode over me. A policeman wanted to be rude, but his majesty raised his hat and was really quite charming about it. And now, children, tea will be ready in a few minutes. The vicar is coming. Mind you don't shock him too soon, May."

Mrs. Leslie was sure it was her adventure with the housemaid and the king which caused shouts of laughter. To add to her placid contentment with life, her husband came home unexpectedly, the rating arbitration having closed more quickly than he anticipated. So all was well at Brasfield for the hour, and Panton emerged momentarily, at any rate, from the cloud which had darkened the last seven years.

It enfolded him again when he sought a few quiet words with Leslie before dinner. He placed boundless confidence in the lawyer's advice, and resolved to take no further step without consulting him. In fact, he regretted now the impulse which had led him to hurry off those two letters to Liverpool that morning. He felt, without knowing exactly why, that his far-seeing friend might have disapproved of them, especially of the outspoken message to Alistair.

However, being a candid person, he made no secret of their dispatch. He began by reading his cousin's amicable note, and gave his own reply, together with the appeal sent to his father, practically word for word.

Leslie listened in silence. At the end he commented only on the letter to Lord Oban.

"I'm glad you wrote in that strain," he said. "There is an honest ring about it. Do you care to explain what the trouble really was which led to this unfortunate break in your relations?"

Panton was ready for the probe now. There must be no further concealment, no covering up of the ugly places.

"Good as you and your wife have been to me, I might have refused to answer that question frankly yesterday," he said. "Now it is different. You have not heard yet why I sought this interview, so I am glad you withheld any criticism of my attack on Alistair. I met an old friend this morning, and he told me something which may affect my future more than anything else that has happened since I left Moose Lake."

Then he described the meeting with Sir Arthur Frensham and its strange sequel. The lawyer began to take notes, which Panton regarded as a hopeful sign.

"Let me understand this matter fully," said Leslie. "Sir Arthur's story, though slightly at variance with your own, is rather remarkable when looked at in conjunction with your vague charges against Alistair Panton. Had you some such notion in your mind when you penned that letter this morning?"

"No. Honestly, I had not. I just laid to his door every evil which has beset my life. I have never ascertained the cause of the horrible collapse in France. It was a sort of waking nightmare. I just seemed to go mad for a brief space. I must have talked and acted like a lunatic. At any other time the affair would have blown over. But in the summer of 1918 the men were getting rather fed up at the prospect of another winter in the trenches. The moral force of their leaders was needed then more than ever. And I was in the very pink of condition, ready to carry on for another four years if necessary. The chap who defended me put forward the plea of shellshock. It wouldn't wash. Why should it, when all I wanted was to be shot next morning; in which case I might have figured as a casualty and the truth would never become known."

"Would not that outcome have proved highly profitable to Alistair Panton?"

"Naturally. The heirship and, as we are aware now, Aunt Eleanor's legacy would have dropped into his mouth like ripe plums."

"H'm!"

Leslie listened in silence.

Aunt Louie did not live up to the mid-Victorian standard. She was delighted to hear how the two had met in London.

"I always say that the most unlikely things happen in the west end," she vowed. "The other day, outside St. George's hospital, I ran into my kitchen maid wearing my best new fur tie, and I was so flurried that the king himself nearly rode over me. A policeman wanted to be rude, but his majesty raised his hat and was really quite charming about it. And now, children, tea will be ready in a few minutes. The vicar is coming. Mind you don't shock him too soon, May."

Mrs. Leslie was sure it was her adventure with the housemaid and the king which caused shouts of laughter. To add to her placid contentment with life, her husband came home unexpectedly, the rating arbitration having closed more quickly than he anticipated. So all was well at Brasfield for the hour, and Panton emerged momentarily, at any rate, from the cloud which had darkened the last seven years.

The advance in the local fractions which has been one of the features of recent market activity has been a profit taking, although Manhattan modified guarantees crossed 60 to a new high. Motors were again heavy despite the optimistic statement on conditions in the industry by John N. C. one of the leading manufacturing, who predicts record-breaking business for the first six months and no material falling in the last half of the year. Mack Trucks was one of the few strong spots in that group.

Specialties in Demand.

Specialties for which there was a good demand included American Zinc preferred, Colorado Fuel, National Distillers, Remington Typewriter, Scott's Emulsion and United States Cast Iron Pipe.

Buying of the rails centered in such issues as New York Central, Erie first preferred, Norfolk & Western, Southern Ohio, and Missouri Pacific preferred.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent and then dropped to 3-1/2, closing at the low figure. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were irregular, with a jump of 17 points to 14.70 cents for the franc, and 10 points for the feature. Demand sterling ruled firm around $4.96 and French francs ruled 6 points higher, just under 3.30 cents. The pound and Belgian franc were slightly easier.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 26.—Cotton goods were in moderate demand today with many inquiries under the markets being declined in the gray goods division. Percales were selling well for June-August. Preliminary jobbing sales were well patronized by retailers. Raw silk sold freely at Yokohama and advanced a little. Local markets remained unchanged with buying light.

OPERA MANAGER RENEWS CONTRACT

New York, May 26.—(AP)—The contract of Giulio Gatti-Casazza as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company, a post he has held for the past 18 years, has been renewed to extend until May 31, 1939. It was revealed today in a tribute to him made public by Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the opera company.

Observers of opera affairs believed the long appointment had been made, at least in part, so that in case the Metropolitan moves to new quarters, (a project which has long caused feeling among differing factions in the company), assurance may be had that Mr. Gatti will be in a position to lend his advice and experience in establishing the famous opera in its new home.

The tribute from the opera company's board of directors, signed by Mr. Kahn, follows: "The season which has just come to a close, being the eighteenth under your management, has been particularly distinguished by brilliancy of artistic achievement and resourcefulness of management. It has also been notable for greater attendance and for more pronounced evidence of interest and approval of the part of the opera-going public than any other."

"The warm appreciation on the part of the board of directors of your devotion, zeal and ability needs no further affirmation. You know the high regard in which we hold you, both in your professional capacity and as a man, and our unalterable confidence in you."

"But we wish to give ourselves the satisfaction to testify publicly anew our esteem for you and to our recognition of the admirable manner in which you have discharged the considerable duties of the difficult and exacting position of general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company."

"With this end in view, at a meeting held yesterday, the board of directors, by unanimous vote, authorized and directed me to extend until May 31, 1939, your contract as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company."

"It gives me great pleasure to advise you of this action, which I trust you will find acceptable, and I renewed to extend until May 31, 1939, your contract as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company."

SUTTON CONDEMNS ATTACK ON BONDS

Branding as "unfortunate and disastrous" any lengthy delay in validation of the $5,000,000 bond issue for civic improvements voted in Atlanta March 24, Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, and W. L. Hancock, chairman of the school contract committee of the bond commission, Wednesday issued statements calling on Atlantans to exert every influence at their command to quash litigation aimed to prevent early sale of the bonds.

Mr. Sutton termed the move as unparliamentary and unworthy of citizens of the community since every third of white child in the Atlanta school system at the present time is being deprived of the advantages of a standard classroom.

"Never in the history of Atlanta were affairs of the city at a more crucial point, in the march of progress," Mr. Sutton said, "immediate solution of this bond issue tie-up is imperative in order that Atlanta can take her place as a leading educational and cultural center of the south."

"Action of the Kimball house lessees and a Pryor street merchant in instituting the attack on validation would seem to be an unjust thrust at the prosperity of the city, since every one of the five items included in the bond issue are of vital importance. And in addition to this, Atlanta school children are made to suffer."

"By this legal action, these few men are attempting to void the votes of about 10,000 Atlanta citizens, who by a ballot of about 10 to one favored passage of the entire issue."

"At the present time, 37 per cent of all elementary children are in unstandard classrooms and 39 per cent of high school students are in the same predicament."

"The protests were added to one issued Tuesday by Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board."
